Agreement Reached On All Outstanding Questions at Milan

Final Settlement Is Announced of Difficulties Arising From Metal Workers' Movement In Italy; Prefect Lusignoli As Mediator.

Milan, Oct. 2.—An accord on all questions remaining unsettled up to this time between the masters and the men growing out of the metal workers' movement was reached here to-day. The agreement came after three hours' discussion at a meeting brought about by Prefect Lusignoli.

AERIAL MAIL TO BEGIN IN TWO WEEKS

"Eddie" Hubbard Secures Contract for Seattle-Victoria Service

Washington, Oct. 2.—Edward Hubbard, of Seattle, was awarded a contract by the post office department to-day for transportation of mail by seaplane between Victoria, B. C., and Seattle. The new service will be inaugurated October 15.

Mr. Hubbard is well known here, having made frequent flights to Victoria. His last flight was to bring material for the stereotypers of The Times.

ANOTHER FIRE AT GALVESTON PIER

Several Steamships Endangered; National Guardsmen Rushed to Scene

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 2.—Fire broke out in Section A at the south end of Pier 41 here shortly after 9 o'clock to-day. A general alarm followed almost immediately and 250 National Guardsmen were rushed to the scene. Four steamships were endangered by the flames.

The fire originated in the lower part of the Section A, which is filled with oil and was probably due to spontaneous combustion. The fire was first noticed when an explosion blew out windows and doors followed by flames and smoke.

Furnace Protection.
Austin, Tex., Oct. 2.—Police Captain H. B. Brooks, in command of police at Galveston, was ordered to-day by Governor Hobby to furnish adequate police protection to guard the entire waterfront in such a manner as will prevent disastrous fires, if it takes the entire national guardsmen in Texas to do it.

Not Under Control.
Galveston, Tex., Oct. 2.—Fire which broke out early to-day in Pier 41 had not been brought under control at noon, but was not spreading from Section A of the pier where it originated. Five tug boats were aiding the fire-fighting force. Officials believed the blaze started from spontaneous combustion. They could not estimate property damage at noon. Section A contained about 15,000 barrels of oil, about 30,000 barrels of cotton lard, one hundred barrels of cotton and a quantity of sugar and other commodities.

NOMINATIONS IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 2.—Nominations for the provincial general elections to be held in New Brunswick October 3, were made to-day as follows:

Opposition—James K. Pinder, John A. Young, S. B. Hunter and C. D. Richards.
United Farmers—Alex. Brewer, Douglas Clarkson, W. B. Gillman and Ernest Starks.

POLES TO SUBMIT ANSWER AT RIGA TO RUSSIAN TERMS

Riga, Oct. 2.—Polish delegates to the Peace Conference prepared to-day to submit the Polish answer to the Russian peace terms. It was understood this answer would be received from Prince Sapieha, Polish Foreign Minister.

SUPER SEAPLANES FOR THE PACIFIC

New American Air-Craft Expected to Have Cruising Radius of 400 Miles

Machines Will Be Stationed With Pacific Fleet for Coast Defence

New York, Oct. 2.—Super-seaplanes with a cruising radius sufficient to enable them to cross the Pacific Ocean, now are under construction and probably will be available for use by the Navy Department early next Spring, said an announcement here to-day by the Manufacturers' Aircraft Association. Eight torpedo seaplanes with a cruising radius of 400 miles, the association announced, now are en route from Cleveland to San Diego, Cal., where they will be stationed operating with the Pacific fleet and supplementing the coast defence.

Trans-Canada Flight.
Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 2.—The Fairley seaplane, in which Colonel Robert Leckie, of the Canadian Air Board, is making a flight from Montreal to Halifax to start the trans-continental flight from Halifax to Vancouver, was still moored in the John River, at Kings' Clear, 15 miles above Fredericton, at noon to-day.

When the weather cleared this morning, Colonel Leckie, Major Hobbs and the mechanic started to make ready for the continuation of the flight, but all efforts to put the engine in motion failed and, up to noon, they were unable to get it to pick up.

TRADERS PENETRATE ARCTIC REGIONS

Gradually Increasing Radius of Operations, Inspector Wood Reports

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—(Canadian Press)—There is a steady movement of traders into the interior of the Arctic region, according to reports received at headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police from Inspector S. J. Wood, who is officer commanding the district of Herschel Island. Inspector Wood has forwarded to Commissioner A. B. Perry reports on patrols made into the interior and along the shores of Coronation Gulf by Staff-Sergeant Clay and Constables Brockie and Cornell, stationed at the newly-established station at Tree River. Summarizing the reports, of Patrols from Tree River to Coronation Gulf, Kent Peninsula, Bathurst Inlet, Copper Mine River, Bernard Harbor and Victoria Land, Inspector Wood states that there are already seven white traders in this district along the coast east of Port Epworth (Tree River) and these traders are gradually increasing their radius of operations. "It is only a matter of time," writes Inspector Wood, "before we must open another station further east still than our new one at Tree River."

Report of Strike Caused Sharp Break On Cotton Market

New York, Oct. 2.—Reports that more than 200,000 British coal miners had gone on strike were followed by a sharp break in the cotton market this morning with December selling off from 21.91 to 21.75, or sixty points below the previous close.

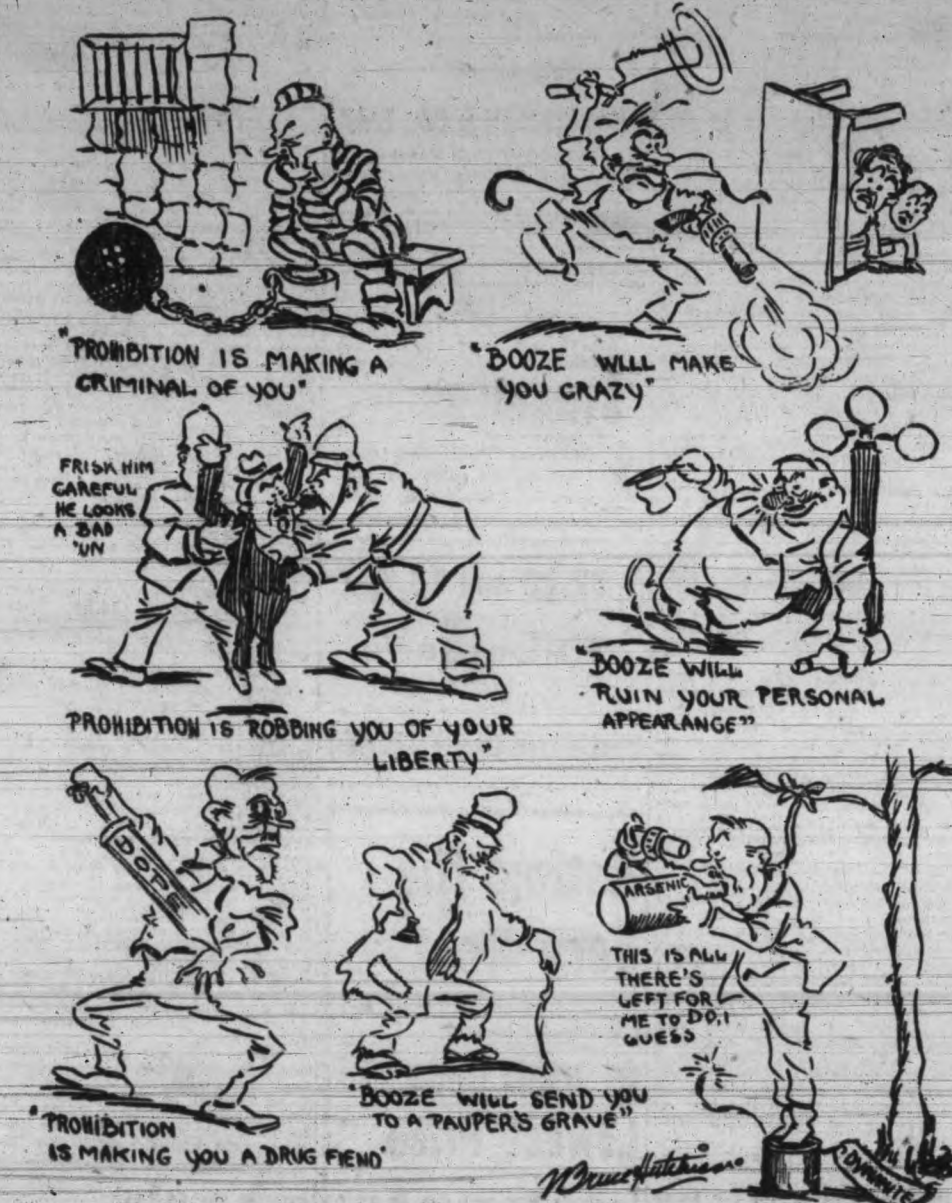

CANADA FAVORED BY BRITISH EMIGRANTS

Typhoon In Orient Wrecks Property and Takes Lives

Tokio, Oct. 2.—(Associated Press)—Scores of persons have lost their lives and widespread damage to property has been done by a typhoon which struck the eastern coast of Japan yesterday. The storm centred around Yokohama, where forty-four Japanese were drowned or killed by falling walls and 120 were injured seriously. Seventy-three houses were destroyed, forty-eight badly damaged, and six thousand flooded. Thousands of houses were flooded in Tokio and five persons were killed. Reports from the provinces state that many have been drowned, sixteen having perished in a village in the Prefecture of Ibaragi. Railroad and wire communications have been interrupted.

How One Feels in Listening to Both Sides

City Hopes to Re-join Municipal Union After Its Nelson Convention

Victoria's withdrawal from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities is expected to be a leading topic of discussion at the Union Convention in Nelson next week, the civic authorities have been informed. Indeed, the city is hopeful that, as a result of such discussion, it will be made possible for Victoria to resume her membership in the Union almost immediately. It has become clear that Victoria has no quarrel with the Union or its purposes, but objects only to the Union retaining as its solicitor F. A. McDiarmid, who is conducting against Victoria a legal case which affects all British Columbia municipalities. Thus, if this condition could be removed, Victoria, it is anticipated, would re-enter the Union with little delay.

BANKERS FORCE IN BUILDING INDUSTRY

Credit Has Ceased to Function, Says American Architect at Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Credit has ceased to function as far as the building industry is concerned in this country and the United States, and the industry has, to a great extent, passed from the hands of contractors and architects into the hands of bankers and credit men, Charles H. Whitaker, of the American Institute of Architects said at yesterday afternoon's session of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada. "Bankers are telling us the kind of buildings we are to build, not consult with the architects, and the result is that the industry in the United States is paralyzed and at a standstill, except in the isolated cases where credit is of no consequence," he added. He referred to the special session of the New York Legislature recently at which special laws affecting building and rents passed. "It is utterly impossible to pack more people into New York City. Imagine the State of New York legislating to build houses in the cities when 35,000 farms were abandoned throughout the State in a single year. The housing problem can not be solved until the land problem is dealt with."

FOREIGN SECURITIES ARE NOT WANTED IN GERMANY FOR TIME

Berlin, Oct. 2.—The Minister of Finance has prolonged until the end of March the restrictions against the importation of foreign securities into Germany.

Russian Masses Are Becoming Tired of Unceasing Conflict

Consternation Said to Reign at Moscow Over Recent Developments; Serious Disturbances; Troops Are Demanding Peace; Strikes Aimed at Government.

London, Oct. 2.—Reports of serious disturbances in industrial establishments in Soviet Russia and of a peace movement in the army on the western Russian front are contained in a Reuter dispatch from Helsingfors, dated Friday, based on advices received there from Narva, near the Russo-Estonian border.

Two commissaries were killed in the factory outbreaks, it is declared. Nearly all the factories in Petrograd are affected, the workmen striking with the object of overturning the Soviet Government, according to the reports.

Large meetings are being held among the troops of the western Soviet army, demanding peace, it is asserted.

Twelve delegates from the army who went to Moscow to urge the making of peace, however, were summarily shot, it is declared. "Consternation reigns in the Moscow Government," the Narva report adds.

Copenhagen, Oct. 2.—Immediate peace with the rest of the world was urged in a resolution passed unanimously at a public mass meeting in Petrograd, according to advices reaching here.

Reports that a strike movement is rapidly spreading in Russia resulting in serious disturbances in various parts of the country also have been received by the National Tidende from its Helsingfors correspondent. He declares travellers from Russia confirm the recent reports that street conflicts had occurred in Petrograd, in which several of the soviet commissioners were killed by a mob. Persistent rumors that Leon Trotsky, the War Minister, had been wounded and that General Budenny, the noted cavalry leader, was being court-martialed, also were in circulation, the travellers reported.

MEET TO LAUNCH UNION OF WORKERS

Victoria to Be Represented at Vancouver Inter-Municipal Conference

GOVERNOR-GENERAL IS DUE TO-MORROW

With Duchess of Devonshire and Party; Will Leave Again Monday

Formation of an inter-municipal organization of city workers will be the object of a meeting of representatives of various civic protective associations to be held in Vancouver next Saturday night, it was made known at the City Hall to-day.

The meeting, according to word received here, will be of a preliminary character and its first decision will be on the advisability of forming a protective organization to include the civic employees of all British Columbia municipalities. If it is deemed advisable to form such an organization—and there is little doubt it will be so considered—preliminary plans for such a body probably will be made. If time is available the conference may be able to decide details of organization and draw up proposals to be laid before the various civic unions represented for approval. The meeting, of course, will do nothing final, and all its decisions will be subject to the endorsement of the individual unions.

HIGH BOND PRICE DELIGHTS PREMIER

Washington, Oct. 2.—Baron Camille Riman-Avezana, Italian Ambassador to the United States, is to be transferred to another post by his Government.

WRECK MAY DELAY G.T.P. ARBITERS

On account of the wreck of the S.S. Prince Rupert, it is uncertain when the Grand Trunk Railway Arbitration Board will arrive here, according to word received in the city yesterday from Capt. Nicholson, manager of the G.T.P. Coast Service. They had been expected on October 10.

PETROLEUM CONTROL IN MEXICAN STATES

Britain and Japan Said to Dominate Industry in Sections

Mexico City, Oct. 2.—Control of the petroleum industry in Lower California has been secured by the British Government, and Japan dominates the same industry in the State of Sonora, according to reports printed in newspapers here, which combine official and unofficial statements. The Department of Industry and Commerce announces that Alfred McKenzie, a British subject unofficially said to have British Government backing, has been granted a three-year concession to explore and exploit all oil lands in Lower California between Santo Tomas and Punta de Canas. A similar concession has been granted a Mexican subject to operate the same kind of concession in Sonora, the territory extending about twenty-four miles in length and being situated in the Altar district. A Japanese corporation with Japanese Government funds is believed the concessionaire, it is said, unofficially.

DIRECT NEGOTIATION ON REPARATIONS IS HOPE EXPRESSED

Paris, Oct. 2.—Hope that France and Germany would conduct direct negotiations on the question of reparations was expressed to-day by the French Ambassador to Germany during the conversations he had Thursday with Dr. Simons, German Foreign Minister, according to The Journal's correspondent at Berlin. The correspondent said that on the initiative of Germany there already has been an exchange of views between competent French and German authorities.

Men Are Returning to Work at Drumheller

Calgary, Oct. 2.—"More men are back at work at the Drumheller Mines to-day and the situation is clearing up nicely. We do not apprehend any trouble and there will be no crippling of the production." This was the statement of Robert Livett, representative of the United Mine Workers of America to the Canadian Press this morning.

Drumheller, Alberta, Oct. 2.—Fire destroyed the Drumheller Cafe, Roskos' grocery store, Skinner & Waite's bowling alley and the Drumheller Club, and also partially destroyed Vickers' garage, entailing a loss of about fifty thousand dollars, this morning.

CARSON DISCUSSES IRISH PROPOSALS

Ulster Leader Stamps Viscount Grey's Plan as Hopeless

London, Oct. 2.—"A more hopeless suggestion never emanated from the brain of a statesman," is Sir Edward Carson's comment on Viscount Grey's Irish plan in a letter from the Ulster leader on conditions in Ireland printed in the London newspapers to-day.

"In plain English," says Sir Edward, "it means abandon all those who are loyal to the crown; leave them to the tender mercies of their Sinn Féin fellow-countrymen, and if they murder each other and exhaust themselves, in slaughter, we will look on without concern. This is a policy of scuttling with a vengeance."

Referring to Viscount Grey's suggestion to leave Great Britain to control Ireland's foreign policy and the army and navy, Sir Edward continues: "If they refuse to accept this, what then? If they burn, ravage, station, attack sailors and soldiers and assassinate officers, then I suppose Viscount Grey would say we must go a step further and allow an Irish republic. Is the murder of British officers in India and Egypt to produce the same result? Why not?"

Sir Edward recalls that during the war Eamon De Valera asserted that a free Ireland would be the destruction of the British sea power, and that Arthur Griffith said the freedom of the seas would never be attainable while Ireland was in her present state.

"What is the use in not facing the real facts, the real aims of the anti-British party in Ireland?" asks Sir Edward.

"Every mistake that has been made originated in basing a policy upon theory and not upon realities," he said, commenting on Viscount Grey's statement that nobody wants to accept the Home Rule Bill now before the House of Commons, and that Irishmen will refuse to operate it. Sir Edward says it is quite true the Ulstermen prefer their present position under the Imperial Parliament.

"But," he continues, "under the existing circumstances, Ulster, in preference to any other alternative suggested, does want the bill. Ulster will accept the bill; Ulster will work for the bill. Certainly, as compared with Viscount Grey's proposal, Ulster would welcome the bill."

Sir Edward contends that Ulster has sense enough to see that it is to her interest to settle down and tackle the questions of education, labor, health and resettlement which now are hindered by the Government at Dublin, which is forever being driven into the fatal policy of trying to appease enemies by neglecting friends.

TARIFF COMMISSION LEAVES PROVINCE

Arguments for Protection of Smelting Operations Advanced at Trail

Trail, B. C., Oct. 2.—Presenting Trail's high protective tariff matter to the Tariff Commission here yesterday, T. A. Robley, on behalf of the local Board of Trade, stated that although there were perhaps only 2,000 to 2,500 men employed at the smelter, the population dependent on the successful operation of the plant was nearly 20,000.

"The Trail plant," he said, "was the only customs smelter in southern B. C. On its success, too, many large and small mines were dependent. As the development of the mineral resources of this district were bound up closely with the industry, it seemed clearly a case for adequate protection, otherwise the industry would be the mercy of all the foreign metal-producing countries with their depreciated currency."

During the years of war, when some large profits were made, some metal-producing companies did not make excessive profits. As a matter of fact it was doubtful if the shareholders of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada received an adequate return on the capital invested. For the year ended September 30, 1918, there was a dividend of $2.00 per share in the balance carried down in profit and loss. In 1919 this impairment was $600,000. As part of the general agreement with the Imperial Munitions Board and the Canadian Government, there had been a bounty to the amount of $400,000 on the production of metallic zinc.

The Commission would, therefore, see that the industry had been somewhat dependent on Government encouragement, which had now been withdrawn.

Zinc Production

The establishment of the zinc plant at Trail was of exceedingly great assistance in enabling the Munitions Board and the Imperial Munitions Board in England to secure a supply of high grade zinc at a reasonable price. It was a matter of common knowledge that the 40 cent price asked by the United States was cut to 15 cents by the Consolidated Company and afterwards reduced to 13 1/2 cents.

At the urgent request of the Imperial Munitions Board the company undertook the refining of copper at Trail. The result of this was that subsequently the company had found it necessary to provide a plant for the making of copper rods, which had not previously been manufactured in Canada. A large proportion of the copper consumption in Canada was in the form of copper rods, which, to all practical purposes were now admitted.

Though the plant was not a large one, it produced five separate metals, and in no case are the operations being carried on on a large scale. The natural development would be to increase the operations, so that they might approximate in size the

POOR HEALTH

LIFE'S HANDICAP

Rich, Red Blood and Strong Nerves Needed to Win Out.

It has been well said that life is a race. The full blooded man with sound nerves, the bright-eyed, rosy cheeked man invariably wins. The nervous, dyspeptic man, and the ailing anemic man are left behind. Success in life is largely a question of good health and sound nerves. It is never the shaky, undecided man who are chosen for promotion, the sickly looking, pale man is not sought after like her happy rosy sisters.

What makes all the difference is the condition of the blood. If your blood is thin and poor, your nerves are bound to suffer, because they have to depend upon good red blood for nourishment. Headaches, undecided will, a shrunken figure and pale, unattractive face tell only too plainly that the blood is at fault.

Both men and women in great numbers have found deliverance from their inferiority in life's race, caused by impoverished blood, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are a remedy that has been a household word for a generation, because they tone up the whole system, make the blood rich and strengthen the nerves.

Mrs. S. B. Miller, Elmira, Ont., says: "I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a family medicine, and have reason to praise them for what they have done in our home. Some years ago, while we were living in Alberta, my husband was so completely run down that he was unable to do any work, and even to carry a pail of water would exhaust him. A doctor was called in who said his heart was affected, and that medicine would be of little use to him. This greatly worried me and I finally urged him to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He began their use and in a short time the swelling in his hands and feet disappeared. We decided to return to Ontario, but the doctor said he could not stand the trip. But the doctor was mistaken, for through the use of the pills, he gained such strength as to be able to look after the harvest, and in a month he returned to Ontario. My husband still takes a box or two of the pills twice a year, and they keep him in good shape. I have also found the pills good for my growing daughters, and we are never without them in our home."

One of the best things about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that they do not contain the slightest trace of opiates or harmful drugs. While they are overcoming disease, they are building up general conditions of good health. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CANADIAN DELEGATES TO LEAGUE MEETING WILL LEAVE SHORTLY

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Sir George Foster and Hon. C. J. Doherty, two of Canada's representatives at the first meeting of the League of Nations to open at Geneva, November 14, expect to sail for Europe on November 3. Hon. N. W. Howells, who is expected to be Canada's third representative, is abroad at the present time.

CARIBOO MAIL TO GO BY RAIL NOW

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Postal authorities are completing arrangements for the dispatching of mail to the Cariboo country by the P. G. E. the mail matter to be carried by the railway as far as Squa Creek, there connecting with a river steamer for the Fraser as far as Prince George.

With the inauguration of this service the mail stage operating between Ashcroft and Barkerville, a distance of 235 miles and Ashcroft and Prince George, 390 miles, will be done away with. For years the mail stage, drawn by six stalwart horses, has been a familiar sight to the residents of the Cariboo, but of recent years this has been succeeded by an auto truck.

The new service will probably go into effect on November 1.

TOO MUCH LIQUOR FOR PRIVATE USE

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Raoul Langlois and Aaron Jephson, of Windsor, Ont., who have been charged with the dispatching of liquor from Montreal, Langlois 193 cases, for which he paid $7,000, and Jephson 100 cases, costing $3,572. The liquor was confiscated. Mr. Justice Meredith here yesterday ruled that the magistrate was justified in deciding that it was too much liquor for private use.

CHINESE WHEAT ON EUROPEAN MARKET

Amsterdam, Oct. 2.—Chinese wheat for the first time now is reaching the European markets in competition with wheat from Canada and the United States. According to The Telegraph, the Dutch government, as well as private buyers, is negotiating for purchase of Chinese grain, the quality of which is good, but not equal to the best Canadian grades.

LOGGING CONGRESS TO CONVENE NEXT WEEK

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 2.—From Idaho, Montana, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona and as far east as Pittsburg, six hundred delegates will pour into the city next week for the Pacific Logging Congress, which is holding the stage from Wednesday until Saturday. In point of industrial importance, even more than in numbers, the Logging Congress will be the most important convention to be held in this city. One of its most important results will probably be the installation of a Chair of Forestry at the Provincial University and the establishment of a course of instruction and standard of qualification for the profession of logging engineer, similar to that established by the Universities of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and California.

With this new profession in mechanical science thrown open to the youth of British Columbia, a great advancement will be made, it is claimed, in the industrial development of the timber resources of the Province.

Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis

If there is an ailment in the throat or chest, it is surely essential that it be removed. It is because the healing vapor of Catarrhazone is breathed into the sore, irritated throat and bronchial tubes that its balsamic fumes kill the germs and destroy the cause of the trouble. These are the reasons why Catarrhazone never failed to cure a genuine case of Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis or Throat Trouble.

Catarrhazone Just Breathe It

To permanently cure your Winter Cough, your colds, sneezing and Catarrh, by all means use a tried and proven remedy like Catarrhazone. But beware of the substitute. Large outfits last two months, costs $1.00, small size 50c. Trial size 25c. at dealers everywhere.

SUGAR IS DOWN AT VANCOUVER; MILK UP

PROHIBITION AND LABOR.

To the Editor.—I notice with much interest Mr. Hastings' championship of liquor in the case of the working man. As Mr. Hastings likes to have the "whole truth" and "proofs" perhaps the following might interest him, and also prove to him that the working man is capable of giving his own opinion on the subject of prohibition, an opinion which Mr. Hastings will see is entirely opposed to his. My authority is the Literary Digest—a magazine pretty well known to most of us, and the following are the facts:

The Literary Digest recently sent a questionnaire to duly elected officials of Labor Unions throughout the United States. It asked: "Has prohibition been a benefit to the working man and their families?" Replies came from every state in the union, and practically 30 per cent. of the labor leaders explained that a poll was taken on the question at the regular meeting. Here are the replies of 526 labor leaders:

Prohibition a benefit to the working man 345
Prohibition not a benefit to the working man 143
Doubtful 31
Prohibition not given fair trial 7

FREE TRADE AS A REVENUE PRODUCER.

To the Editor.—I have no wish to sound a jarring note amid the chorus of praise which has been evoked by Mr. Mackenzie King's admirable speech on Monday night, but his reference to the tariff question appears to give countenance to a theory which we have lately heard from different quarters, as to the supposed limitations of free trade as a producer of revenue. After speaking in favor of the taxation of incomes and business profits, and the taxation of luxuries, Mr. King proceeded to argue that these taxes would not, of themselves, give the enormous annual sums now required to carry on the national business of the Dominion and that it is necessary, further, to raise a large amount by a customs tariff.

With all this I agree, but where I join issue is when Mr. King proceeds to assume that such a tariff must of necessity be protective in its nature. So far from this being the case, a strict adherence to free trade would produce as much or more revenue, more effectively and by fairer means.

To understand this, one has only to turn to Great Britain, where for more than seventy years free trade has held sway. Great Britain has during the whole of that time carried a bigger burden of taxation than Canada, both actually and relatively; and if Mr. King, or anyone else, wishes to know how revenue is raised under free trade, I would commend a reading of an annual budget statement in the British House of Commons, for any years between 1846 and 1914. Many Champions of the Exchequer in that period showed how the thing could be done—Conservatives like Peel, Disraeli, Northcote, Lord Randolph Churchill and Ritchie; Liberals like Gladstone, Harcourt, Asquith and Lloyd George, and Ministers like Goschen and Austen Chamberlain. Surely, Canadian statesmanship is not so barren of ideas as to profess failure in a realm where so many British statesmen—good, bad and indifferent—have succeeded!

Will you kindly permit me, Mr. Editor, to point out how a nation's revenue is raised under free trade?

I repeat, then, Mr. Editor, that as a means of raising revenue, free trade is more prolific than protection, more effective, and more fair.

There are three methods open, which I will mention briefly:

Firstly, by direct taxation. As Mr. King advocates a larger measure of this in Canada, I will not enlarge upon it, though I think he underestimates its possibilities.

Secondly, by a customs tax on articles which are imported—such, for example, as natural products grown in tropical lands, or manufactures, facilities for making which do not exist in Canada. Revenue from such sources is easy to collect; but this method of raising money has been largely neglected by Canadian Finance Ministers. Indeed, the favorite protectionist argument is: "Don't tax so-and-so, because we do not make it here, and we have to buy it from the United States; anyway, put the tariff instead upon an imported article which competes with the output of some factories in Eastern Canada, so that the manufacturer here can add the amount of the tariff to the selling price of his goods." Where such a policy is allowed to prevail, probably only one-fourth of the added price on the total goods consumed finds its way into the treasury, and a Finance Minister, requiring to raise a certain sum for national purposes, must consequently tax four different articles, where under free trade he would need to put a tax only on one.

Thirdly, by revenue raised on articles, a portion of which is made in Canada and a portion of which are imported. The duty being levied impartially on both home and foreign goods. Free trade financiers, however, have usually avoided this field of taxation as far as possible. In some cases difficulty might be experienced in collecting the revenue, and it would not be likely to prove popular. Still, a Finance Minister who would levy a duty on a particular article would raise more revenue by embracing every source of supply instead of confining the duty to that fraction which was imported, and the additional revenue thus raised would help to keep other articles on the free list.

I repeat, then, Mr. Editor, that as a means of raising revenue, free trade is more prolific than protection, more effective, and more fair.

RED CROSS WORK.

To the Editor.—You have recently received from the headquarters of our Society in Toronto a short summary regarding the peace-time policy of the Canadian Red Cross Society, which is continuing in existence as a valuable factor in promoting the improvement of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering. In this British Columbia of ours,

We think it is not untimely, therefore, to follow this up with a few brief statements concerning the place the British Columbia Division of the Society has filled up to the present in this scheme.

During the first year of organization we have had to find our place in the public health work of the Province without overlooking the work of other existing agencies working on similar lines, and in deciding to co-operate with the Provincial Department and these other voluntary organizations, we think the Government will admit that the Red Cross Society has enabled the public health work of the Province to take a great step forward. Since last May five nurses out of ten we undertook to train and maintain have been placed in rural districts; the Society is paying the salary of these nurses, and, in addition, financially assisting other centres that are unable to maintain their district nurses. The reports of our nurses show splendid work is being done in the rural districts on behalf of suffering humanity.

In assisting to establish the Red Cross Chair of Public Health in the University of British Columbia, the Society has opened a wide field for the training of nurses for public health work, and has enabled a very great need to be met much sooner than would have been possible under previously existing conditions. This course will begin about the first week in November of this year, and a large number of applicants (all graduate nurses) have applied for enrollment.

The continuation of our work has, of course, been a first charge on our efforts and funds, and no appeal from any returned man has been refused if it has been possible to fill it. Large requisitions for supplies from hospitals and sanatoria, and every effort is made to supply the needs of these unfortunate men.

We propose in the near future to undertake considerable educational work by the dissemination of knowledge on public health problems, endeavoring to reach those of our population who are least informed on such matters. The public health nurse is doing great work along these lines, but of necessity it will be a considerable time before all the outlying communities of our Province can be enlightened by such means.

In the future we hope to give our efforts and accomplishments greater publicity, and in this we confidently rely on the sympathetic co-operation of our editors.

A. J. FORSYTH,
Hon. Secretary-Treasurer,

the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway at Flint, Michigan.

Mr. Peters joined the C. P. R. on October 1, 1881. In 1896 to 1900 he was general freight agent for the Kootenay. In 1900 he was appointed general freight agent at Vancouver for two years and afterwards freight traffic manager for Western lines. He was then transferred to the executive department and was made assistant to the vice-president. In the Spring of 1912 he was appointed general superintendent of British Columbia. It is a common remark among railway men that Mr. Peters is one of the most popular men on the C. P. R. He is as equally well known in Montreal as in Vancouver, and more than one high executive official from the head office has stated to newspapermen in Vancouver that one of the delightful things about visiting Vancouver is to have the pleasure of meeting the general superintendent. Courteous, affable and always willing to put himself out to be of service, Mr. Peters has won many friends.

MONDAY THE LAST DAY.

It should hardly be necessary again to remind our readers that the Victoria City 1920 Tax Sale will be held next Tuesday morning, so that only one day remains on which it will be possible for property owners in arrears of taxes to take advantage of one of the relief plans arranged by the municipal authorities. Those plans have been fully advertised and explained in the press, and the public no doubt is generally familiar with them. It is important in the interest of the taxpayers as well as in that of the city that the freest advantage be taken of them. It would be folly to disregard them on the assumption that some easier measure of relief will be forthcoming at the instance of either the municipality or the Government. Whether there will be a redistribution of taxation as between Government and municipalities or not, is an altogether different matter, and one which is not likely to be decided in the early future. Taxpayers must be governed by conditions as they exist now, and therefore should take advantage of one of the plans of relief offered to them, as a sure thing.

A FINE SHOWING.

Not only the high price for which the British Columbia Government P. G. E. Construction Bonds were sold, but the keen competition shown by Canadian and American bidders for the issue presents a very gratifying commentary on the financial standing of the Province. It is a striking reply to the jeremiads of the Leader of the Opposition and makes them look not a little foolish. It may be urged that although the bonds were disposed of at a premium this advantage will be considerably offset by the effect of the adverse exchange, the issue having been sold to a Seattle syndicate. But that, after all, is only a problem. The international exchange situation is bound to right itself long before those bonds mature; indeed, if we are to believe high financial authorities in New York the restoration of the pound sterling to its former standing is more likely to be a matter of months than of years, while the Canadian dollar is also sure to be vastly improved in a short time. It is obvious that the financial administration of British Columbia is more highly regarded by the financial markets than it is by Mr. Bowser.

ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

One result of the great railway strike in Great Britain last year was the adoption of what is known as the sliding wage scale with its adaptability to the rise and fall in the cost of living. How well founded was the plan is reflected in its first application a few days ago when the Board of Trade announced that living costs had increased from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and sixty per cent. above the normal. The railwaymen's claim was presented without discussion and the two shilling increase granted on the prescribed basis of one shilling for each five points. But there is a moral in the smooth working of the railwaymen's affairs and a striking contrast to that which marks the foot-by-foot struggle at present being waged by the miners for their own two shilling increase. In the one case men of the type of James Henry Thomas are wielding a sane and moderate influence over the rank and file of the union's membership, while the coal-getters look for guidance to men of the radical type as personified in Robert Smillie who presides over the destinies of the Miners' Federation. Therein lies the difference which will be obvious to the greater part of organized labor sooner or later. When it is fully grasped the subscribers to the Lenin doctrine may find themselves out in the cold.

THE RIGHT TYPE?

According to a public pronouncement by a member of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Landowners' Association, of London, plans will soon be completed for settling a large number of areas in this Province with young men from the Old Country. This is exactly what British Columbia requires. But in his interview just made public the company's official, while enthusiastic over the number of Old Countrymen who are waiting to come to Canada, says they are not "remittance men," but the kind of young fellows who attended the public schools—presumably Eton, Harrow, Rugby, Malvern, and so on. We are not in a position to judge, of course, what is meant by this assurance; the term "public school boy"—applied quite differently in Britain—however, does not suggest the farmer type in the practical sense. It is to be hoped, therefore, despite the private nature of this proposed policy of mass settlement, that due regard will be paid by its promoters to the qualifications essential to successful settlement and contented rural communities. This Province, as well as other Provinces, has had enough black eyes from new arrivals with a grievance—real or fancied—and on that account there cannot be too much precaution. Nevertheless we wish any scheme success which points to more production and more population.

INCREASED HALIBUT CATCH.

In the recent report of the Provincial Commissioner of Fisheries, mention is made of a substantial increase in the halibut catch. For instance, in the year reviewed by the official document the total reached was 19,198,565 pounds, or an increase over 1918 of 2,501,565 pounds. This is considered to be an exceedingly satisfactory showing; but the report sounds a note of warning because the provisions of the Canadian-American halibut treaty—signed in 1919 and now before the United States Senate—are considered to be quite inadequate in respect of the closed season for which they provide. Instead of having a closed season for all fishing for halibut by Canadian and United States vessels, the report advocates that the known halibut banks of the Pacific be divided into six districts which should be in turn closed for five years in such manner as to insure freedom to fish in some of the banks at all times. If this is the result of a careful investigation as intimated by the report action along these lines should be taken in order that those banks which are known to be depleted may be afforded special protection.

EXTRAVAGANCE?

"One of the worst forms of government borrowing is to raise money for just such political extravagance as the $5,000,000 drydock in the Minister of Agriculture's constituency. Could any group of Canadian business men be found to invest $5,000,000 of private funds in such an undertaking? The thing cannot be justified on any economic grounds."—Ottawa Citizen.

There are a great many Government enterprises and activities which no group of Canadian business men would invest or engage in. No group of Canadian business men would dream of spending ten million dollars on that single building on Parliament Hill, Ottawa, for example. If a group of Canadian business men were running the administrative Departments at Ottawa as business men they would cut down the army of civil servants in that city to a point that would save the country the equivalent of half a dozen drydocks in the course of a decade.

The work which the present Government is going to carry out at Esquimalt has been in contemplation since 1910. Parliament made an appropriation for it in 1912 and 1913 and it should have been completed long ago. Further, the project will very fully justify itself on economic grounds. We can assure our contemporary that the maritime possibilities of the Canadian Pacific Coast are greater than those of the Ottawa River or the Rideau Canal, and that in this phase of development nothing is more essential than an adequate drydock. Finally, may we point out that as a general principle, Government money is not necessarily wasted merely because it happens to be expended on the Pacific Coast.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Twenty former women war workers of Great Britain have formed themselves into an engineering corporation on the profit-sharing basis. Will they be called the apostles of a new Bolshevism?

According to a dispatch from Rome the social and industrial conditions in Italy may be compared with those found after an earthquake. Unfortunately, however, there is quite a difference. In the one case the earth is cracked and in the other the constitution is in danger of being very considerably torn up.

Mrs. Charlie Chaplin says her husband has been earning $13,000 a week and if he wanted to work hard could earn $25,000. Chaplin never "earned" that much. We doubt if he really earned $25 a week. However, he obtained the large amount, but the fact that a man can get more than $650,000 a year for making himself look and act like an imbecile—funny though he unquestionably is—is an interesting commentary on the quality of our civilization.

In a special article in The London Times prominence is given to impressions gleaned by the Empire Press delegates and to speculation upon the fruits of their mission to this country. The writer is quite right when he says there are signs in Canada of weariness and impatience with vocal imperialism and the absence of any call for missionaries of the Empire from Britain or elsewhere. No; Canada wants a good business connection with the Old Land; it wants a policy of mutual trust; it wants the Motherland to know that her capital sent to this country henceforward will be welcomed and rightly treated.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWSTESTS.

(From the Writer's Monthly). The late Ambassador, Walter Hines Page, was formerly editor of The World's Work and, like all editors, was obliged to refuse a great many stories. A lady once wrote him:

"Sir—You sent back last week a story of mine. I know that you did not read the story, for as a test I had pasted together pages 18, 19 and 20, and the story came out; and so I know you are a fraud and turn down stories without reading the same."

Mr. Page wrote back:

"Madame—A breakfast when I open an egg I don't have to eat the whole egg to discover it is bad."

HE SAW THE JOKE.

(From an Exchange). Erskine and Lord Balmuto were walking in the country when they met Lord Balfour. Balfour was suffering from lameness. Erskine asked what had happened, and Balfour informed him in labor and tortuous phraseology that he had fallen in getting over a stile on his brother's property.

"It was a mercy that it was not your own stile, or you would certainly have broken your neck."

Balfour grinned his appreciation of the witty pun, and went limping down the road. But Lord Balmuto didn't smile. His face was puckered with perplexity. In silence they walked a mile or more. Suddenly Balmuto burst into a roar of laughter, exclaiming:

"I have ye noo, Harry! I have ye noo!"

The meaning of the witty pun Erskine had uttered to Balfour had just dawned upon the Scotchman.

WHY DOES WOOD FLOAT?

(Copyright, 1920, By The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

In the first place, all wood will not float. Some varieties, like ebony, lignum vitae and the like, will drop to the bottom almost as fast as a piece of lead. So it is apparent that the faculty for floating, for remaining on the surface of the water, is not one which is inherent in wood itself. It must have something to do with the construction of the wood.

If we take two containers, of precisely the same size, and fill one of them with water and the other with a completely like the container, we will find that there is a material difference in weight. The one containing the water is considerably heavier than the one filled with wood, or, applying another term to the same thing, the water is more "dense" than the wood. By the operations of the law of gravitation the denser object will sink and lie below the level of that which is less dense. So, even if we hold a piece of wood under water, it will spring back to the surface when released—unless it remains below sufficiently long for it to get "water-soaked." In this case, the weight of the wood itself, plus the weight of the water which it contains, is greater than the weight of the water which it displaces. The same effect could be obtained by compressing the wood so that all the air is expelled from between the fibres. The compressed block would then sink—which is the reason that a few extremely close-grained woods will not float when placed in water.

BOARD OF TRADE TO ENLARGE SCOPE OF MEMBERSHIP

Will Invite Wider Support of Public; Campaign to Start Next Week

A campaign to enlarge the scope of the activities of the Board of Trade, to strengthen its finances and to promote a stronger community spirit in Victoria, was officially decided upon yesterday afternoon, when a strong committee, representing the Council of the Board, the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, the City Council, the Victoria and Island Development Association, the Real Estate Exchange and similar bodies, considered in detail a proposal laid before them by Col. E. C. Simmons, of the Canadian City Bureau, whereby that body will undertake to bring a drive for funds to a successful conclusion after carrying on an educational campaign, and will follow this with organization work designed to bring greater co-operation between semi-public bodies into effect.

For three hours the details of the proposed contract were subjected to a close analysis, and after sundry amendments had been made the gathering was unanimous that Victoria would highly benefit by the increase in the public participation in public affairs, while the results accruing to the Board of Trade, both in membership strength and in financial resources, would be of permanent value.

Starts Next Month. It is the intention of the Bureau to commence its work immediately after November 1, and in the meantime the Board of Trade will institute a strong effort, through its officials, to secure the complete elimination of any names from the arrears sheet of the membership list, so that the Bureau shall be left a clear field of unaffiliated merchants and citizens from which to obtain its new members.

The City Bureau being a private corporation, relying on the skill of its officers as its resource, it carries on this work of increasing civic pride and strengthening semi-public bodies as a commercial proposition, and the committee which yesterday authorized President J. L. Beckwith, of the Board of Trade, to sign the agreement as revised was well pleased with the financial terms involved, these being based on the payment to the Bureau of a percentage of the increased revenues as and when they are collected, during the following months, from the new membership.

IF VOTE IS DRY PROHIBITION NOT AT ONCE EFFECTIVE

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—(Canadian Press).—In connection with the taking of provincial plebiscites under the Canada Temperance Act, it was stated today that while the returns will be available locally on the night of the vote being taken, as would be the case in an ordinary election, the official result will require to be posted by the chief electoral officer, Colonel O. M. Higgins. Should the provinces vote in favor of prohibition of importation of liquor, such prohibition will not come into effect until a date which shall be set forth in a proclamation to be published in The Canada Gazette after the receipt of the official result of the plebiscite.

PRINCE LANGENBURG ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF SEIZING RIFLES

Berlin, Oct. 2.—Prince Gottfried Hohenzollern Langenburg, with other officers, has been arrested, according to the newspapers, on a charge of attempting to secure possession of two million rifles left behind in Holland during the retreat of the German army with a view to selling them unlawfully. The prisoners were provisionally released after a preliminary examination by the public prosecutor.

Prince Langenburg last April was fined one thousand marks for his connection with the attack on members of the French mission in the Hotel Adlon early in the year. This attack was led by Prince Joachim, of Hohenzollern, a cousin of former Emperor William.

HOROSCOPE

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1920.

(Copyright, 1920, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Astrologers read this as an uncertain day. While Uranus and Saturn are in malefic aspect, the Sun exercises kindly power.

Although the planets that are believed to stimulate criticism and slander have power during this rule, Sun imparts great energy to public persons, who will be able to override scandal-mongers.

The stars are on the side of those who disseminate propaganda, whether it be with good or evil intent, for Uranus imparts credulity and eagerness to believe the worst.

To overcome the sinister direction of stars believed to hold sinister sway, men and women should steadfastly close their minds to all unkind suggestions.

During the government of this day's stars and while the Moon holds power, persistent effort to preserve mental peace and to deny what is unfavorable to humanity.

This should be a lucky time for the giving of presents or the bestowal of favors.

The government of the stars is favorable for promoters, political campaigners and all who seek to gain advantage through personal popularity.

Schools should prosper greatly this year, which will bring to them many practical improvements.

Famous scientists will come to this country from abroad, astrologers prophesy, and world centres of knowledge will develop rapidly in many American seats of learning.

There is a sign read as foreshadowing a flood of immigration in which the humble will mingle with the great.

Again, party dissensions and splits seem to be foreshadowed in more than one State.

Women are subject to a rule supposed to increase their initiative and it is prognosticated that those of radical ideas will organize for some eleventh-hour political move.

Saturn persistently gives warning of a possible financial panic, or at least a decided flurry in Wall Street.

Persons whose birthdate it is coming year, they will prosper if they are contented with established conditions. Children born on this day may be restless and ambitious. There may be a tendency toward excessive generosity.

HIGH WATER HAS HELPED SALMON IN ISLAND STREAMS

"Streams on the East Coast of Vancouver Island are full of salmon," said John McHugh, resident engineer of the Dominion Fisheries, who returned to Vancouver on Thursday from an examination of that district. Due to the heavy rainfall of the past few weeks the humpbacks and cohoes have been able to ascend to their natural spawning grounds, because of the high water, explained Mr. McHugh. The spawning beds will as a result be well seeded this year and a harvest of cohoes and humpbacks should be looked for in another two or three years.

Camps established on the banks of several of the streams, will, he said, be closed down for the season in another two or three weeks. Much valuable clearing work was accomplished this year in the way of re-

SAANICH MAY SELL LANDS ON INSTALLMENT PLAN

Proposed to Hold Auction and Sell Tracts on Monthly Payments

Saanich may shortly be selling property in various portions of the municipality on easy payment system to working people, if a proposal Thursday night made to the Council and highly approved of is carried through.

An offer of $50 apiece for four lots on Raymond Street, to which Saanich has now received title as a result of the 1919 tax sale, brought the suggestion before the Council. It was felt that the offer was too low for the type of property, as the lots are assessed at $275 each. It was then moved by Councillor Dooley that an upset price be set on the properties now available for sale, and that an auction be held shortly. Assessor Sewell then reported that, while there will be a large number of items available by November, yet at the present time many titles to properties acquired at the 1919 tax sale are not yet issued to the municipality.

Monthly Payments.
Clerk Cowper then recommended that if such a sale is held, arrangements should be made for the acceptance of installment payments, suggesting that a ten per cent deposit of the full bid should be made at the time of sale and the balance paid in ten equal monthly installments without interest and with all taxes to the end of 1920 paid up in full by the municipality.

The idea appealed to the Councilors as highly valuable, and the scheme will be considered as soon as the Assessor reports that there are a sufficient number of items registered in favor of the municipality to make the holding of an auction justifiable from the expense point of view and attractive to possible home-seekers and investors.

CREATES IMPERIAL WAR RELIEF FUND

Canadian Red Cross Appeals For Support During Armistice Week

In August Dr. James W. Robertson, chairman of the executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society, had a conference with the Governor-General regarding steps which might be taken in Canada on behalf of an appeal for the Imperial War Relief Fund to combat disease and distress in the war-stricken areas of Europe and Asia. Communications had already passed between the Lord Mayor of London, who is chairman of the Imperial committee, and His Excellency. The fund is under the immediate patronage of the King. With the approval of the Prime Minister of Canada, the matter was referred to the Red Cross Society. After full consideration of all the facts presented, it was decided to arrange for an appeal to be made in Canada during Armistice week, Armistice Day being November 11.

Famine and Disease
No one who understands the attitude of the public generally towards a continuation or a repetition of campaigns for money would have chosen the present time to issue another appeal except under the conviction, forced by relentless circumstances, that it is necessary in order that one of the most terrible and terrifying calamities of all time may be averted. Canada is already familiar in a general way with the catastrophes which have overtaken vast regions in Europe and Asia Minor. Famine conditions prevail over wide areas. Disease is rampant, and there is real danger that typhus may break all bounds and overwhelm other portions of Europe during the coming winter.

Right Hon. Justice J. Balguy, on a recent occasion said that in his judgment actual famine had assumed such dimensions as to lie beyond the capacity of private charity; but Governments have now rendered assistance in supplying food, and it becomes the duty of the British Empire through the action of its private citizens to concentrate upon the menacing problems of disease and its attendant ills.

A Terrible Picture
Some twelve nations, many of them Allies during the war, are very near the end of their resources to fight disease, and almost helpless in the matter of helping themselves. A recent report says that in these countries millions of fellow creatures are lying stricken by disease, distress and despair. The plague, typhus, the most loathsome of fevers, is killing off men and women and children like flies, and threatens to overcome Europe next winter. Poland and Galicia appear to be in the worst plight of all. Typhus was bad enough in 1918 but the disease has spread until it is at present seven or eight times worse than four years ago. In Galicia the schools are closed, business is at a standstill, and civic life is crippled. There are no doctors, no nurses and no beds. The miserable typhus-stricken patients lie unattended upon the bare floors. In almost every hut there are several cases of typhus, and in many instances whole families are stricken with the disease, and are perforce left to die unaided. It has been calculated that there is only one doctor for every 150,000 inhabitants. In places the mortality has reached the awful figure of 60 per cent.

War Relief Fund
The Imperial War Relief Fund is designed to co-ordinate the efforts of all existing agencies, and to promote an impressive British effort on behalf of the distressed areas in Central Europe and the Near East. The work is to be carried out in close co-operation with the League of Red Cross Societies, which League now includes twenty-seven nations. The agencies of the League will be mainly responsible for the application of the fund in the several countries.

Social Personal

Numerous friends witnessed the ceremony at Knox Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, which united in marriage James Ritchie of this city, and Miss Fanny Ureana Bignell. The bride, who was a becoming suit of navy blue with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Michoudian daisies, was attended by one bridesmaid, Miss Marie Fletcher. Wm. Patterson supported the bridegroom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bignell, 1000 Rockland Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie will make their home on Balmoral Road.

Mr. R. A. Quayle, who for some time has been acting manager at the Empress Hotel, will leave at the end of October, on the termination of his engagement for the summer season. Mr. Quayle will return for the winter to Southern California. There he has certain interests and usually passes the winter. It is the intention of Mr. Quayle to make a tour of the Orient, having a brother resident at Shanghai. There he will also look up other projects which have been offered to him.

In honor of Miss Polly Clyde, whose marriage is to take place on October 21, about thirty of the younger members of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club entertained at a "kitchen shower" last night. The enjoyable little affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robertson, Queen's Avenue, and was a great success, the bride-elect receiving many useful gifts from her assembled friends.

The friends of Dr. A. W. Kenning, of this city, will be pleased to learn that he has been made a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons. Dr. Kenning intends leaving shortly for Montreal, where the convention will be held and where he will receive his fellowship.

Mrs. Arthur Spalding, of Pender Island, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hopkins, of Sooke, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cunningham, Mrs. A. C. Cunningham, Miss E. Cunningham and Percy Cunningham, of Nanaimo, are registered at the Strathcona Hotel.

Miss Mary Hard, the young violinist who made so many friends during her stay here last winter, has returned to Victoria from England and will make an extended visit to her brother, E. W. Hard, Constance Avenue.

Mrs. P. Macdonald Liddell, Point Grey Road, Vancouver, entertained recently at dinner at the Strathcona Golf Club in honor of her father, Herbert H. Beck, of Victoria, and Robert A. Pringle, K. C., of Ottawa.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Andrew, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Barrett, and W. A. McDonald, of Winnipeg, and Allen Paton, of Montreal, are registered at the Strathcona Hotel.

The Rev. B. H. West, late of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, and Mrs. West, have left for Vancouver, where they are the guests of Mrs. Walker, Chester Street, for a few days.

Victorians registered in London recently include Miss Mabel Unwin, P. Nation and Miss Helen Nation and A. L. Marshall.

Mrs. H. L. Jenkins, of Nanaimo, and Mrs. M. Russell, of Hardisty, Alta., are registered at the Dominion Hotel.

E. J. Hansell, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. R. Willison, of Blaine, Wash., are guests at the Strathcona Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. McGregor and family are down from Crofton, and are registered at the Dominion Hotel.

E. R. Ellis Tucker, N. Sutherland and E. E. Macdonald, of Duncan, are staying at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Stingers, of Pender Island, are among yesterday's arrivals at the Dominion Hotel.

Nurses Hostesses AT PLEASING DANCE

Local Graduates Held Enjoyable Function Last Evening at Alexandra Club

At the Alexandra Club last evening the Graduate Nurses' Association sustained their enviable reputation as hostesses with an enjoyable dance planned for the raising of the local contribution to the Dominion Association's public health nursing scholarship at McGill University. Financially as well as socially the function was a pronounced success and the funds of the Association should receive considerable impetus as a result.

The event was under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Prior, the Hon. Dr. Maclean and Mrs. Maclean, and Dr. H. E. Young and Mrs. Young, and about two hundred were in attendance, including many representatives of the medical profession. Dance music of perfect rhythm was dispensed by Professor Heaton's orchestra, and the closing hour of one o'clock found the dancers loath to leave the floor. Towards midnight a dainty and delicious supper was served in the downstairs cafe, a blaring fire adding a cheery note of welcome.

The arrangements were in the capable hands of Miss Grimmer, president of the Graduate Nurses' Association, assisted by Mrs. (Dr.) Thomas, Miss Mackenzie and the Misses Tolmie.

Tickets for the lecture are obtainable at Fletcher Bros' Music Store.

BOHEMIAN FETE A HUGE SUCCESS

Five Hundred Revellers at Students' Welfare League Function Last Night

Flags of all nations, vari-colored bunting and other gay decorative features transformed the main exhibition building at the Willows Fair Ground into an effective setting for the Bohemian fete held under the auspices of the Students' Welfare League of British Columbia last night. Fully five hundred guests were in attendance at the affair, the majority in costume and all masked, and as the dancers circled in the maze of one-step and fox-trot the effect was that of a colorful kaleidoscope.

VICTORIA WOMAN IS HONORED BY LODGE

Mrs. Carlow Elected President of Royal Purple Order

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—The convention of the Grand Lodge of the Order of the Royal Purple was held on Wednesday evening in the Elks' club rooms. The convention was well attended, and proved to be very interesting. The officers elected for the coming year are: Supreme honored royal lady, Mrs. Carlow, of Victoria; supreme associate royal lady, Mrs. Harry Alkon; supreme royal lady, Mrs. Brooks, of Victoria; supreme royal secretary, Mrs. Grey, of Victoria; supreme treasurer, Mrs. Peiden, of Victoria; inner guard, Mrs. W. Evans; outer guard, Mrs. H. Storry; royal supreme conductor, Mrs. Jessie Prince; supreme chaplain, Mrs. Astiff, of Regina; trustees, Mrs. J. Morris, Mrs. McQuay and Mrs. Simmona.

On Thursday evening the visiting delegates were guests of honor at a banquet at the Burrion Hotel, following which a theatre party was held at the Allen Theatre. Conveners for the banquet were Mrs. R. F. Schneider and Mrs. R. F. Knight.

The honored guests included Mrs. J. W. Carlow, of Victoria; Mrs. Blanche Brooks, of Victoria; Mrs. Violet Peiden, of Victoria; Mrs. Jean Gray, of Victoria; Mrs. W. G. Astiff, of Regina; Mrs. E. J. Marshall, of Anyox; Miss Lillian Molloy, of San Francisco; Mrs. Ninnons, of Kamloops; Mrs. Morrison, of Regina; Mrs. Lauber, of St. Louis, and Mrs. McQuay, of Victoria.

AURORA

A very unusual name and yet one extremely prevalent in America, is Aurora. It signifies "the dawn," since Aurora was the mythological personification of the break of day. Her name comes from aurum (gold) because of the golden light she sheds before her. Aurora as the goddess of the dawn appears in all legends and was attached by the Greeks to their Eos, whose rosy fingers unbarred the gates of day.

Lady Douglas Chapter's Function at Mrs. Forbes-Proctor's Residence

Considerable interest is being taken in the bridge-tea which is to be held in the artistic home of Mrs. Forbes-Proctor at the corner of Fowl Bay Road and Quamichan Avenue on Monday afternoon, under the auspices of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E. The regent, Mrs. R. B. McKicking, and members of the chapter, with the assistance of the hostess, have spared no effort to make the affair a social and financial success, and it is anticipated that the beneficiary—the War Memorial Fund of the Order—will benefit handsomely as a result. The arranging of the tables for bridge and five hundred is in the capable hands of Mrs. A. N. Mount and Mrs. H. A. Whillans, while Mrs.

ANOTHER ASPECT OF PROHIBITION PLEBISCITE

Archdeacon George Lloyd, of Regina, Saskatchewan, who will speak in Victoria next week, has come to British Columbia to take an active part in the campaign that the prohibitionists are waging for the approaching referendum. The Archdeacon directed the Dominion-wide prohibition movement in 1915, and was president of the Prohibition Party when they brought the "dry law" into Saskatchewan.

Archdeacon Lloyd stated in Vancouver that what really mattered on the prohibition issue, as he saw it, was British Columbia's relation to the rest of the province in the Dominion, re-

Big Prairie Influx To Start This Month; Realty Men Seek Houses

Real Estate Vendors Desire Listings For Winter Tourists Who Are Expected Next Month; Messrs. Dunford's Sales.

Victoria realty men are rushing their listings and their office staffs into shape for the beginning of the big influx of prairie people who are coming here this winter.

Seven thousand persons from the Northwest are now making ready for their migration to Victoria, Herbert Cuthbert, secretary of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, announced to-day, as a result of reports he has received and his observations during his recent trip.

Reports received by various Victoria firms from their prairie correspondents substantiate Mr. Cuthbert's announcements.

To Roll In Wealth.

Prairie people, these reports say, will be wealthy when the returns from the crops come in. The crop is a record-breaker for size, and the farmers are getting high prices for the grain.

As soon as grain deals can be closed up, the influx will commence. Prairie correspondents say. This influx will start about the middle of this month, as many persons want to get away from the prairies before the frosts start.

Every available house is being lined up here by the realty men to meet the demands of the prairie migration. Nearly all of the large city firms have agents who are covering every house in the city to find out whether the owner will put it up for sale.

Esquimalt Speeding Up.

Definite announcement of the $10,000,000 of big developments that are starting in Victoria, including the Esquimalt drydock, has given a spurt to house property during the last week.

Recent sales of Dunford's, Ltd., who report great activity in Victoria West and Esquimalt, because of drydock prospects, include these in Esquimalt:

Five-roomed house on Jessie Street, $2,200; four-roomed house on Joffre Street, $2,400; six-roomed Constance Avenue waterfront bungalow, $3,700; Fleming Street property, $7,500; houses sold include: Five-roomed house on Birch Street, $3,750; six-roomed house, Davis Street, $3,800; four-roomed house, Moss Street, $3,650; McClure Street lot, $2,425. Five acres at Metchoin have also been sold for $1,700.

A. A. Davis has started reconstruction of his home at 221 St. Andrew's Street, and so has M. Munro at 2859 Cedar Hill Road.

Other building operations have been started by Mrs. N. J. Wilson, 619-623 Queen's Avenue; William Wilby, 1115 Burdette Avenue; W. Mellor, 433 Superior Street; R. Truman, Superior Street, and T. Watson, Bay Street.

Automotive Dealers Get Together to Work for Betterment of Business

Betterment of the automobile trade in Victoria was taken up last night at the meeting of the Victoria branch of the B. C. section of the Retail Automotive Dealers' Association of Canada, at James & Willis's showrooms, under George Lillie.

To enlist every automobile dealer in the city a committee of K. E. Bailey, R. E. Jameson, G. W. Lillie and W. Jackson was formed. There will be a dinner and other functions arranged soon. A committee was also appointed to look into the tire repair question.

These firms were represented last night: Thomas Plimley, Begg Motor Co., Automotive Equipment House, Horrocks & Jackson, A. McGavin, Jameson and Willis, Lumsden, Camosun Motor Co., Revercomb Motor Co., Lillie's Garage, The Tire Shop, J. Pearce, Central Vulcanizing Station, Victoria Vulcanizing and Accessories, James Bay Garage, Steele's Garage, Moore & Davis, Atkinson Motor Co., Rolfe Battery Co.

HUDSON'S BAY CO. ISSUES MAGAZINE

In an age when every great corporation has its medium of publicity, it is not surprising that so well-known and established a corporation as the Hudson's Bay Company should start in this field. The first copy of The Beaver, a new periodical, is dedicated to the Hudson's Bay Company. The magazine, which is published weekly, is a capital photographic reproduction of the company's history, and it promises a future which will assure its permanence. It will be edited at the offices, Hudson's Bay Co., Winnipeg.

Perilous Plight of Lieut. W. H. Brown Told on His Return Here

Further details of the plucky escape made by Lieut. W. H. Brown from his wrecked seaplane at Nalau Island were heard to-day when the aviator returned to Victoria after his narrow escape.

It appears that after the engine of his machine cut out, the pilot effected a landing 25 miles out to sea from Nalau Island, at five in the afternoon, and there endeavored to repair his engine. At this time the pilot was but thirty minutes flying time from Bella Bella, for which point he had been making his trip north to Prince Rupert.

His efforts at locating the engine trouble having to be discontinued by a rising sea, that threatened to swamp his seaplane, the pilot sat and watched his frail craft drift twenty-five miles in towards Nalau Island.

Was Washed Ashore

At two o'clock the following morning, on a pitchblack sky without moon or other means of seeing what was happening, the stranded pilot was washed ashore on the rocky ledge. Climbing out along the lower plane the pilot jumped for the rocks, but missed his footing and fell into the sea.

After being in some considerable danger of being pounded to death in the heavy breakers, Mr. Brown regained the shore on the crest of a wave that left him breathless and well nigh exhausted on a rocky ledge. Without light or other means of getting his bearing, the pilot lay on the wet and chilly rock ledge all night, and with daylight was able to move to a safer position, out of the reach of the seas.

Thinking that the westward side of the island was most probable for shipping traffic, Mr. Brown watched attentively all morning, and finally changed over to the other side. After a while ships in line of sight, and realizing that to remain was to starve, the pilot straddled a log and paddled himself out into what appeared to be the nearest line of the steamship traffic from Bella Bella south.

Almost Exhausted

Having nothing to eat but three pilot biscuits, commonly known as "hard tack," the unfortunate aviator paddled his strange craft to sea, and after being afloat for some hours was picked up by the steamer Hidden Inlet bound from Alaska to Seattle. By this time from exposure, he was almost exhausted. The pilot speaks very highly of the crew of the Hidden Inlet, who revived him after his climb from the sea.

The Vancouver Island Aerial Service Company, for which Mr. Brown was flying at the time, is to save the engine of the seaplane at Nalau Island, where it lies in some twenty-nine feet of water. The company are going to install it in another Curtis machine. Mr. N. Goddard, partner with Mr. Brown, stated that these concerns were not discouraged, and they would start again as soon as they could get a machine together.

Lieut. Brown is very well known here and the many friends of the aviator have been congratulating him on a remarkably clever escape.

HARVEST THANKSGIVING

The annual Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held in St. John's Church on Sunday, when the Rev. F. A. Chadwick, will be assisted by Rev. Principal Vance, of Vancouver, and Rev. P. T. Rowe, the well-known Bishop of Alaska. The ladies of the church have decorated the church with grain, fruit and flowers for the occasion, and festive music has been prepared by the choir. At 8:00 a.m. there will be Holy Communion, and at the eleven o'clock service the sermon will be delivered by Principal Vance, and at the evening service at 7:30 the Rector has invited the Bishop of Alaska, who is a visitor in the city, to preach.

The music will consist of the bright and beautiful Thanksgiving hymns and psalms and the "Te Deum," by Augustus Toplady, will be sung at the morning service, and in the evening a festive "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis," the composition of the organist Mr. Burnett, will be sung. The "Nunc Dimittis" was composed by Mr. Burnett for the "Clerical" meeting held at St. John's Church in the Spring of this year, and the "Magnificat" is composed for this Harvest Thanksgiving service. The anthem will be Sir John Stainer's "Ye Shall Dwell in the Land" on Monday evening. A Harvest Thanksgiving organ recital will be given in the church under the direction of Mr. G. J. Burnett, assisted by the choir and Mrs. Jesse Longfield.

Police Officer Here Praises Aid Given By Newspapers in Detection of Grime

James Bain, a detective of the Manitoba Provincial Police, arrived in the city yesterday to convey Spero Pafas back to Winnipeg, where he is wanted on a charge of having misappropriated funds collected by him on behalf of a large bakery concern. At the police station this morning Mr. Bain renewed acquaintances with several members of the Victoria detective staff, and in course of reminiscence explained the case. The Province of Manitoba undertook the expense of securing the return of persons wanted by the various police authorities of the Province.

Makes Laws Respected.

Mr. Bain said that this course had been adopted in order that the burden of enforcing the law against those who flee should not fall too heavily on single communities, and cited a recent case when an embezzler of insurance funds amounting to $700 had been brought back from London, England, by the Province at a cost of approximately $3,000.

One of the local members of the force dryly commented that when a local offender gets that far away he is reasonably safe from arrest, as the Province lays all the burden of securing return for trial on the municipalities where the offence takes place.

Newspapers Aid.

Speaking of the value of wide publicity to police affairs, Mr. Bain stated that in 1915 a murder was committed by a man named Spain, who promptly disappeared—completely. The publication of his disappearance and photographs in the newspapers drew such wide attention to his actions that within a day a flood of details began to come in. First the ticket salesman for one of the railways reported the issuance of a ticket to Toronto, then came confidential details, even to the number of the berth which he had booked on the train. Finally the Toronto police picked the man up as a result of these directions.

Mr. Bain maintains the co-operation of the newspapers has been of great value on the prairies, where the general dissemination of news that certain persons are wanted is better achieved by this means than in any other way.

PRINCESS

To-day is the last day of "Wife in Name Only" at the Princess Theatre, and it is a splendid production well worth the seeing.

Sunshine and sorrow, laughter and tears all blended together in this charming play, and really, there is nothing more to be desired for a perfect evening's entertainment. From the rise to the fall of the curtain there is never a dull moment and the acting, scenic effects and costumes are all just what they should be. "Wife in Name Only" is a comedy drama in four acts and is as beautiful a play as has ever been produced by this clever company.

The next offering of the Mildred Page Players will be "The Brat," and there is nothing much that need be said for "The Brat" as it is already so widely known that the title alone is its chief recommendation. "The Brat" will be produced at the Princess Theatre, Oct. 5. It is a comedy drama of great merit which has been a record breaker in every way for the last few years.

To-day's matinee and the performance to-night will be the last chance to see "Wife in Name Only" at the Princess Theatre.

ROYAL VICTORIA

The successful engagement of William Farnum in William Fox's screen version of "The Adventurer," the romantic drama from the pen of E. J. Connelley, ends at the Royal Victoria Theatre this evening.

Mr. Farnum never has appeared to better advantage than as the hero of this shining story. His support is exceptionally good, and well-balanced and interesting performance of an excellent drama is really worth seeing.

Amusement seekers will welcome the news that the delicious humor of the old stage farce, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," has been transferred to the screen by Elmer Harris and that Bryant Washburn will appear in the photoplay version at the Dominion this week.

The plot concerns the misadventures of Temple, when he failed to come home one night and invented a friend called Brown in order to explain his absence to Mrs. Temple. But Brown and his wife and the pal whom Temple induced to pose as Brown injected themselves into a mess, and there was a riotous mess, out of which Temple extricated himself in a most novel manner.

Wanda Hawley is the leading woman in this delightful comedy, and Walter Heira and Sylvia Ashton are among the favorites who help along the fun. James Cruze directed the picture, which is a Paramount Art-craft.

COLUMBIA

Mrs. Charlie Chaplin's (Mildred Harris) first Jewel picture since the production of "When a Girl Loves," will be seen to-day for the last time at the Columbia Theatre. "Home" is the title that has been given to the latest Lois Weber production starring Mildred Harris. The story was written by Miss Weber and she is also responsible for its admirable directing. The story of "Home" will send the audiences away with a new thought in their minds about the place called home.

The story might well have been the inspiration of the song, "Home, Sweet Home," which has been sung in every home of the country. With Mildred Harris as the star, taking the role of the foolish young girl, who forgets the loving care of father and mother, little sisters and true-hearted boyhood lover, and seeks diversion and a rich marriage among the coffee aristocrats of a Summer party acquaintance, this photoplay, so aptly named, is an epic in human emotion.

Harrison Ford, who plays the lead with Constance Talmadge in her newest Select Picture, "A Lady's Name," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick, and which can be seen at the Variety Theatre to-day, one lived in Washington D. C. This fact had a decided influence on his subsequent theatrical career, for as it happened he lived next door to a theatre and on one occasion, while a mere youngster, he was given the chance to appear with a company there. He remembered the incident after he grew up and when the time came for him to choose a profession, he promptly chose the stage. His first part was with Robert Edson in "Strongheart." William C. de Mille's famous play. Soon he was playing leads, and he served in that capacity in "Excuse Me." When "Excuse Me" was made into a film, Ford went into the pictures too, to play the leading role and he has been there ever since. In "A Lady's Name" he plays Noel Corcoran, the chief male figure, and does some of the best acting of his screen career in the part.

TRAVEL WITH THEIR

TEACHER ON TOUR

Winnipeg Kiddies, Here Next

Week, Have School

Daily

"Work" echoed one of the Original Winnipeg Kiddies, when asked how he liked the work. "This isn't work, this is fun. The only work we do is in school." The Kiddies, who come to the Pantages Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, carry a specially qualified teacher with them. The school is conducted in the parlor of the hotel at which they stay, and is on a stricter lines than any classroom in the public schools.

Just as soon as breakfast is over school begins. Their teacher says there are no more industrious children in any school—they are veritable gluttons for learning. Their travels over this continent have sharpened their wits and they imbibe knowledge freely.

As for their stage work—that is their recreation, just as children play during recess. They have learned that quarrels destroy happiness, so they never quarrel. They are just one happy family. Do they get enough schooling when traveling about the country? Well, after their last American tour, they discovered when they went back to their public schools in Winnipeg that they were all further ahead than their classmates, and they passed their examinations easily. That was because their teacher was able, on their tours, to give them what was virtually individual instruction.

Outside of school hours they learn many useful things—a knowledge of geography at first hand, deportment in public places, self-confidence and self-reliance. They see people, meet people, see places, visit factories, see how things are made, and learn to converse with the wisdom of maturity. And yet they retain their childish charm and simplicity due to the fact that they are constantly under parental care. They are not permitted to make a tour longer than three or four months at a time. They spend every Summer at their homes in Winnipeg. Thus they do not become blasé, stage-hardened or professionalized in the general sense of the word.

The original costumes designed by Percy Anderson of His Majesty's Theatre, London, are one of the most interesting features of the big Oriental extravaganza "Chu Chin Chow," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Geist will present at the Royal Victoria Theatre for an entire week in November.

One of the most colorful fashion displays occurs during a scene depicting a bazaar in ancient Bagdad, where the ladies of the harem of the East evidently found time to spend many pieces of gold upon silks and satins. Here are introduced the famous fashion mannequins garbed in the most beautiful styles of that time.

In the bazaar scene, the penniless wife of Ali Bush, having suddenly become possessed of riches, comes to the fashion market to purchase fitting clothes for her new station in life. The silk merchant parades twenty of his most beautiful costumes before her eyes. The way in

Fantastic Costumes of "Chu Chin Chow" Were Designed in London

The original costumes designed by Percy Anderson of His Majesty's Theatre, London, are one of the most interesting features of the big Oriental extravaganza "Chu Chin Chow," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Geist will present at the Royal Victoria Theatre for an entire week in November.

One of the most colorful fashion displays occurs during a scene depicting a bazaar in ancient Bagdad, where the ladies of the harem of the East evidently found time to spend many pieces of gold upon silks and satins. Here are introduced the famous fashion mannequins garbed in the most beautiful styles of that time.

In the bazaar scene, the penniless wife of Ali Bush, having suddenly become possessed of riches, comes to the fashion market to purchase fitting clothes for her new station in life. The silk merchant parades twenty of his most beautiful costumes before her eyes. The way in which this scene is handled is characteristic of the artistic execution of the whole performance. The silk merchant claps his hands, slaves run in with a purple carpet, which they spread before him, other slaves bring on silken screens of a neutral color, the music plays, the silk merchant sings, and one by one the mannequins enter and display their gifts while attired in gorgeous robes.

The costumes, which would test the ingenuity of a fashion expert to describe in detail, range from something resembling the tail of a peacock to an enormous turban, which is fully five feet in diameter. This costume, with the enormous head-dress is one of the most superb creations evolved.

The other nineteen mannequin costumes simply defy description. There are three Chinese costumes of brilliant blue which from the front simply make one gasp. At a signal the girls turn and the whole three are seen dressed in yellow.

"Chu Chin Chow" is a romance of ancient Bagdad, with Oriental magic in all of its fourteen scenes, but nothing like the fashion display has ever been shown on the stage of an American theatre.

WELL, WHAT DID YOU THINK.

"All right back here?" bawled the conductor.

"Hot on hot on," shrieked a feminine voice. "Jes wait till I gets mah clothes on."

And then, as the entire carful craned their necks expectantly, she entered with a basket of laundry.

SOCCER SEASON OFF TO GOOD START TO-DAY

Curtain Is Hoisted and Stage Set for Hot Fight

Managers of Various Teams Predict Very Interesting Season; None of Them Are Out Claiming Championship, But Agree Teams Will All Be Hovering Around Top.

Victoria's 1920 soccer season opened this afternoon with two games scheduled in the Senior League and one in the Intermediate League. The heavy rains last night made the grounds very soggy and the footing was none too sure, but the kickers showed surprising speed and the crowds on the side-lines were treated to some fine work.

The season opened with the G. W. V. A. testing their ability against Victoria West at Beacon Hill and the Metropolis battling with the Comrades of the Great War at Central Park. The only fixture in the Intermediate League is between the Garrison and Esquimalt teams at Work Point.

Game Will Improve.

The opening games of the season are the bothersome ones, as the managers are not quite sure of their line-ups, having new material to try out. Some of the star players of several of the teams were not able to take the field to-day, but it is expected that by next Saturday the clubs will be at full strength. This will mean a marked improvement in the play.

This year the Senior League will have six teams and there is not a weak member among them. The Intermediate League will have four well balanced teams. A third league will make its appearance here within another week when the Wednesday Afternoon League is organized. All clubs intending to enter in this league are requested to have their applications in the hands of Jack Neary, G. W. V. A., rooms, Fort Street, by Monday next. This league will give all clerks who have their weekly half-holiday on Wednesday a chance to indulge in their favorite sport.

What the Managers Say.

None of the managers seemed very keen about making predictions as to their club's chances of success in the race, confining themselves to general statements as to a keen struggle and all being up around the top at the finish.

Jack Neary, who last year piloted the K. of C. team to the city championship, is this season handling the G. W. V. A. team. Jack speaks as follows:

The G. W. V. A. team will not be quite as strong as the K. of C. champions, but I think we will be right there when the time comes around to hand out the cup. I have a bunch of new blood with a number of old-timers to steady them down when on the field of play. I also have several new men in view, and if they decide to wear our uniforms the club will be greatly strengthened and our chances of landing the championship will look much better. Our team at present includes: Shrimpton, Freddie Wright, George Allan, Clarkson, Caskey and Jack Brass, formerly of the K. of C.; Billie Allen, last year with the Wards; Harwood, from the Harbor; Arthur Johnson, Down and Kroeger, of the G. W. V. A.; Henderson, who played in the Church League in Vancouver last year; Bobbie Lee, of the

Sullivan Offers To Give "Will Be Best Season in History," Says President

Chicago, Oct. 2.—The Cook County grand jury, which has been conducting the investigation into the alleged "fixing" of the 1919 world series, today was to be made a special body to continue its search of baseball history for evidences of crookedness. Testimony will be resumed Monday and Tuesday, John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, Fred Toney, Giant pitcher, and Benny Kauff, former New York outfielder, were to be examined concerning the dropping of Heinie Zimmerman, Hal Chase and Lee Magee, National League players. Kauff and Toney, it is understood, will testify that Zimmerman offered them $500 and $200 respectively to throw a game. They said they refused.

A Master Mind. Reports received by officials from New York said that John J. "Sport" Sullivan, had declared that there really was a "great master mind" behind the deal which involved the payment of money to White Sox players to "throw" the world series of 1919.

Within the next 48 hours I will be on my way to Chicago, and when I get there I will tell the grand jury or any other officials the whole inside story of the frame-up," Sullivan is said to have declared last night.

AGAIN WITH WESTS

JOHNNIE PEDEN

Who will be on the forward line of the Wests again this season. He has been a main cog of this team for several seasons.

Players and they should give the Sons a fighting chance for the cup. Among the players we have signed are the following: Finnigan, Simonis, Davidson, Moulton, W. Vincent, A. Kerley, P. Kerley, Heathfield, Walters, Oliver, Casier, Knight, Haines and H. Heesler.

Mets Dark Horses. The Metropolis men are the dark horses of the league and may provide a big surprise. This is their first season in the senior league. The team is very fast and strong in all departments and will keep all the other teams hustling along to keep them in check. W. Livingstone is managing the club and is hoping to add more trophies to the club.

Last year the club captured the intermediate championship. This year it is anxious to win both the senior and intermediate cups.

WILL TRY TO STAGE BIG BATTLE TO-NIGHT

Cleveland, O., Oct. 2.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion and Jack Britton, holder of the welterweight title, will make another attempt to get together in the ring in their scheduled ten-round bout at the American League Park here to-night. Leonard expects to enter the ring weighing 136 pounds and Britton about 145.

WITHIN THE ROPES

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 2.—With blows that would have hardly cracked an egg shell, Tiny Herman of Tacoma, knocked out Andy Anderson, Chicago, in the second of a six-round bout, the main event here last night. So poor was the Chicago man's performance that he was loudly jeered by the fans. Anderson came out of his corner in the second round on the defensive and Tiny piled into him. Herman seemingly brushed with his left across Anderson's jaw and repeated with his right, Anderson's huge bulk awayed over bending knees and then fell with a thud. He rose at the count of eight, but Herman crossed with his right and Anderson went down for keeps.

Joe Wilson, Winnipeg colored boy, went six rounds to a draw with Noodles Knox, local writer. The other events between local boys were well contested.

FAMOUS HORSE SHOT.

At a railway station in Simsbirk the Bolsheviks shot the famous Russian trotter "Krepph". This horse's records have hitherto been unbeaten. He belonged formerly to Countess Tolstol and the celebrated sportsman and horse-breeder, M. M. Shapoval, and was shot for being a "bourgeois" horse.

COVELESKIE MAY TWIRL FOR INDIANS

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 2.—The Cleveland Indians, American League leaders, went into the third game to-day, requiring but one more victory to clinch the pennant. The cold weather which dropped yesterday's attendance to about one thousand, continued to-day. Probable pitching selections were Coveleskie for Cleveland and Dause for Detroit.

CARPENTIER MAY MEET DEMPSEY THIS YEAR

New York, Oct. 2.—Georges Carpentier and Jack Dempsey may meet in a heavyweight championship bout in this country before the year is over, after all.

Jimmie Adam Is Extremely Enthusiastic Over Outlook For Football In Victoria This Season; Likes Chances of City Winning Island Championship This Year.

"I am looking forward to the best football season we have ever had in the history of Victoria. We have a well-balanced senior league and the intermediate league will be fast and the play of high order. We hope to have the play developed to such an extent that the soccer fans will be drawn to the games. We will see to it that the game is kept clean."

This enthusiastic statement was made by Jimmie Adam, president of the Victoria and District Football Association, to the Sporting Editor of The Times this morning.

He hopes to see the two leagues provide a standard of football which will set the fans alight and have them packing the side-lines at every game.

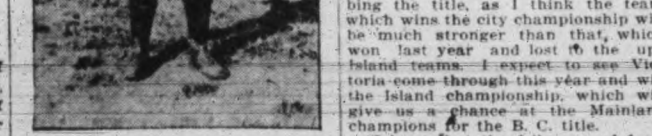

Best Kind of Play. "I have no doubt but that this year will be far better than it was last season," went on the president. "Then we had eight teams and about 120 players registered. This year we have six teams and about 80 players registered. This means that we have the cream of the players gathered together in six clubs which has bolstered their attack and defensive work."

The fact that we have not seen the players over so many clubs as last year will augur well for our success in the Island League. The two best teams in the Victoria League will compete against the two best teams in the Upper Island League for the Island championship. This makes Victoria's chances very good of grabbing the title, as I think the team which wins the city championship will be much stronger than that which won last year and lost to the Upper Island teams."

I hope that the followers of football will patronize the games very liberally this season as the boys who are practicing hard and spending so much time keeping in shape are due large turnouts when they perform. After the fans have seen the games next Saturday when the teams have steadied down, I think they will agree that the 1920 soccer season is going to be an unqualified success."

We hope to have a very successful outside competition this season, which will greatly stimulate interest in the game."

BABE RUTH IS LUCKY IN ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Meridian, Conn., Oct. 2.—"Babe" Ruth, world's champion home-run hitter, on his way to Springfield to-day in a new roadster, collided with a truck at the dangerous Yatesville culvert on the New Haven trunk highway in Meridian. He landed in a field with his car wrecked, but he and a friend, who was his passenger, escaped unhurt, except from scratches from the broken windshield.

WHITE SOX FAILED TO BEAT ST. LOUIS

New Team Had Hard Struggle; Can Only Tie Cleveland; Mails Loses Game

St. Louis, Oct. 2.—St. Louis dimmed Chicago's pennant hopes yesterday, defeating the White Sox, 8 to 6, in the opening game of the series of three that rounds out the American League race.

The loss of yesterday's game, while Chicago was breaking even in a double-header with Detroit, placed Chicago two games to the rear of the leaders and destroyed their last chance of capturing the championship unless through a play-off of a tie.

Faber Fails. After getting away to a three-run lead in the first inning as the result of three passes, two hits and a sacrifice, Faber weakened in the third, six of the eight men who faced him hitting safely, giving St. Louis five runs and a lead that was maintained the rest of the game.

Davis was wild but kept the visitors' hits well scattered. In the meanwhile St. Louis increased its lead at the expense of Hodge and Keifer.

The contest was the first in which Chicago has participated since seven members of the club were suspended with the world's series gambling scandal. As a result Manager Gleason presented a lineup that was almost completely changed from that with which he went through the season.

Remember Schalk. Ray Schalk was tendered an ovation when he came to bat the first time and was presented with a huge floral basket from local admirers.

St. Louis..... 8 12 1

Batteries—Davis and Seaver; Hodge, Keifer and Schalk.

Detroit, Oct. 2.—Cleveland, fighting for the American League pennant, made certain of at least a tie by dividing a double-header with Detroit, while Chicago was losing a single game to St. Louis yesterday.

The visitors lost the first game, 5 to 4, in the tenth, when Shortstop Sewell threw Flagstead's grounder into the Cleveland dugout and Pincus followed with a clean single. The Indians' victory in the second game was a decisive one, 10 to 3. Fifteen Cleveland hits, six for extra bases, and four Detroit errors contributed to the result, the league leaders scoring in every inning but the second. The second game was called at the end of the eighth inning because of darkness.

Detroit's victory in the opener yesterday broke Walter Mails' winning streak. He held a four-run lead when Detroit solved his delivery in the eighth and tied the score.

COMRADES SUPPORT LIBERTY LEAGUE

Association Wants Re-Adjustment of Poll Tax; to Benefit Ex-Servicemen

That the present prohibition act had been passed when they—as ex-servicemen—had been at the front, and did in no way represent their ideas on the matter of alcoholic control, was stated last night at a meeting of the comrades of the Liberty League of B.C.

The resolution passed, condemning the prohibition act strongly, and pledged the members in full support of the Liberty League at the forthcoming plebiscite. The whole question of the working of the prohibition act was thoroughly discussed, and the gathering reached an unanimous decision in the passing of the resolution deprecating the present system in vogue.

Charitable Cases.
Something of a flurry was raised when the question of donations to charities was broached, it being generally stated that the wealthiest people of the city often failed to lead the way in the open minded and spirited way that could be wished. The matter came before the meeting during the consideration of a grant towards the $5,000 drive for funds for the Salvation Army, when it was suggested that the association donate $100 to the cause.

In speaking to the motion, President R. McNeil stated that though heartily in sympathy with the work done by the Salvation Army overseas, he considered that a gathering of front-line men could ill afford a sum that was the high level mark for some of the wealthiest residents of the city. After general discussion, in which the Salvation Army work in France came in for full acknowledgment, a grant of $25 was passed to help in the drive for funds.

Poll Tax Exemption.
The exemption from poll tax of all class "A" battalions for a period of ten years from their return from the front formed the subject of another resolution that received general support. It was contended that the returned citizen had not yet had a chance to become re-established and that the slight concession would be gratefully received by the men as a token of the appreciation of a grateful government for the men who had risked their all.

Use of Stars and Stripes.
The lavish display of patriotism which led visitors from across the border to fly the "Old Glory" to the total absence of the national ensign of Canada formed the subject of another discussion that waxed warm and general before it was decided that a resolution be passed condemning that lack of courtesy to this Dominion, and that copies be passed to civic and other authorities who might be interested.

The matter of increased allowances to S.C.R. students, which have been made retro-active to September—only aroused some discussion, and it was decided that representatives of the comrades would interview Premier Meighen on his arrival in Victoria. A more generous reading of the principle that governed these payments would give the soldier students some chance to recoup themselves in part at least, for their losses, it was claimed.

Over Two Thousand.
Four new members were passed on last night, although they were unable to attend, their credentials being provided by their sponsors. The numbers of the association now being well over the 2,000 mark, it was stated. Other business of a more personal nature, relative to the affairs of the club as an institution for men without homes in this city, occupied the time of the gathering until the closing hour.

EXPECTS INCREASED TRAVEL FROM PRAIRIES

Mr. Cuthbert says 7,000 Residents of Western Provinces Will Come to Coast

"A prairie tourist movement of from 6,000 to 7,000 this winter will come to Victoria," stated Herbert Cuthbert, Executive Secretary of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, to the Times this morning. Mr. Cuthbert is here en route to Nelson, where he has been invited to address a meeting of the Good Roads League, of British Columbia, during the convention next week there.

"I know," he stated, "that there will be an enormous travel from the western provinces to the coast, and that money will be plentiful after the good harvest."
"To prepare for that movement to the Pacific Northwest the Association commenced yesterday its display advertising in the leading prairie dailies. The full page displays will be printed in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, and Saskatoon papers. They will be followed by smaller campaign material in other prairie journals, up to Christmas."
"With regard to the permanent effect of the western prairie travel upon Victoria business," said Mr. Cuthbert, "it must not be forgotten that three residences alone aggregating over $100,000 in value were purchased during 1920 in this city by persons who came from the prairies for a winter, were so charmed with what they had seen, and decided to make permanent investments here."

"Apart from realty purchases which may be secured from this large movement, the presence of so many hundreds of persons will represent the distribution of a large sum of money among the business houses of Victoria," Mr. Cuthbert stated.

TERRORIST TACTICS CAUSE FLURRY OF POLICE INTEREST

A practical joker afflicted with a gruesome turn of mind yesterday gave Deputy Chief of Police Palmer occasion to show both courage and presence of mind, by leaving a carefully made innocuous bomb in the entrance of the City Hall.

Deputy Chief Palmer noted the object lying in a corner, with a burned-out fuse-like projection attached. The janitor refusing to discuss the object under the circumstances, the officer took it to the police station, where investigation of its interior showed that a careful bomb had been prepared, the pseudo-bomb's contents being a mixture of lead and iron filings imbedded in sand instead of explosive, the exterior being built up of cement on a base of corrugated cardboard wrapped around a tin can.

TO MARK FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Saturday Next Is Set for National Effort to Reduce Fire Hazard

A full statement with regard to the proposed observance of Fire Prevention Day to-day week is made in a proclamation issued from the Governor-General's office, Ottawa. The proclamation runs in part:

Heavy Loss of Life.
Whereas it is authoritatively stated that during the past decade in Canada more than 2,600 persons have lost their lives, and property valued at approximately $200,000,000 has been destroyed by fire, and that the annual loss from this cause continues practically unabated;
And whereas, in addition to this waste of human life and created resources, forest fires annually destroy merchantable timber worth many millions of dollars, and immature forest-growth of inestimable potential value, thus adversely affecting one of Canada's most important branches of industry, depleting our natural heritage of forest wealth and impoverishing, if not entirely destroying, the future productivity of large forest areas;
And whereas the waste thus occasioned, represented in terms of human life, money, labor, time and natural resources, cannot be recreated, but is an absolute and irrevocable loss largely distributed over the entire population through the agency of fire insurance, which imposes an inescapable and burdensome tax upon industry and thrift and substantially adds to the cost of living;

Loss From Carelessness.
And whereas it is shown by reliable statistics that at least seventy-five per cent. of the fires which occur originate either directly or indirectly through inexcusable ignorance and neglect and are therefore preventable, and that the exercise of reasonable prudence and proper carelessness on the part of responsible individuals would reduce losses by fire in Canada to the comparatively insignificant proportions of losses in other countries;
And whereas economic and humanitarian considerations imperatively demanding that human life and material resources in Canada be so far as possible conserved in order that the national prosperity may be maintained amidst world-wide competitive conditions, and that the general welfare of the people may be measurably increased;

And whereas it is desirable that the attitude of the public be directed to the extent and underlying causes of the preventable loss of life and property by fire, and to the best and most practicable means for its conservation and proper carelessness on the part of responsible individuals be set apart and properly designated for the dissemination of such information;
Now know ye that we, by and with the advice of our Privy Council of Canada, have thought fit to appoint and do appoint Saturday, the ninth day of October in this present year, as "Fire Prevention Day," and we do recommend to all our loving subjects that, on that day or upon the day preceding, as may be found most practicable:

Inspection of Buildings.
All dwellings and their surroundings be carefully inspected by their occupants and all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fires removed;

All public buildings, stores, warehouses and factories be inspected and cleared of rubbish in order to reduce fire hazards and maintain health and safety;

All hotels, theatres, asylums, hospitals and other institutional buildings be inspected and provision made for all changes necessary to protect the occupants from danger in the event of fire;

Fire-drills be held for the children in all schools, for the inmates of all institutions, and for the employees in all large stores and factories in order that greater degree of safety may be ensured by acquainting the occupants with the best and most expeditious mode of exit in time of danger;

Special instruction on the subject of fire-prevention be given by the teachers and by municipal officials in the schools, and that such appropriate literature as may be made available be distributed to the pupils;

Boy Scout leaders give instructions to the troops under their control as to the best means of co-operating with municipal fire departments in the prevention and extinguishment of fires, and especially as to the desirability of qualifying for the fireman's badge;

To Lumbermen.
Operators of lumber camps, settlers, campers, hunters and others who may from time to time enter our national forests and forest areas acquaint themselves with all laws, regulations, and precautionary rules devised and established for the safeguarding of the woods against fire.

All legislation and regulations enacted or issued by Dominion, Provincial, or municipal authorities dealing with fire-prevention be given

SEED CONTEST
GREAT SUCCESS

H. E. Hallwright Reviews Competition Staged Among Saanich Schools

Satisfaction with the success of the Rotary Club's seed-growing competition, which he directed, was expressed by H. E. Hallwright to-day.

Not Yet Challenged.
So far the Saanich schools have not been challenged in the championship for seed production in Greater Victoria," Mr. Hallwright remarked when discussing the seed competition. The incident weather doubtless accounts for the apparent lack of enterprise among schools of other districts in not entering the competition for the magnificent Rotary Cup. Nevertheless the exhibits which Saanich has entered are most creditable, and in the opinion of Miss Winn, the judge of the contest, the contest has made rapid headway since last year.

It is satisfactory to note that at least two of the schools which entered last year, Keating and Gordon Head, were among the four exhibitors who submitted both exhibits and essays.

It is understood that several other schools, including Craigflower, who ways and means of growing good seed, we may look forward to the contest becoming one of the big interests of the children, teachers and parents of our wonderfully endowed home. The winner, North Dairy School, is to be congratulated on the spirit shown by these three factors of community development in the excellent exhibit which was submitted from that district. In not waiting for the end of the Summer holidays before collecting the ripened seed product of their garden the North Dairy scholars have proved conclusively the old farm Maxim. Make hay while the sun shines. It is to be hoped that the boys and girls in other schools will take note and benefit by their example. For it's a long pull and a strong pull and a pull altogether which wins the day, boys and girls!

The Winner.
The name of the winner will be engraved upon the cup for this year, and the school will also become the possessor of a suitable memento of the occasion, to remind subsequent scholars and the people of North Dairy how the school helped to establish seed production and an enviable community spirit in Greater Victoria."

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN AND THE HOME

Books As Friends

Most of us have libraries, if we are so situated as to afford them or to have space for our bookshelves. But how many of us are really fond of books? Of course, we read the current magazines and keep up in a way with the newspapers and get an occasional book from the public library, but how many of us add to our libraries to any extent as the years go by?

Most libraries are places for show, to be dusted semi-occasionally and to stand for the culture in our lives. Yet there is nothing in the world that will so add to one's mental equipment as the privilege of browsing in a well filled library and absorbing the information it contains and getting in touch with differing phases of life through the printed page.

Many a man or woman has received more of educational value from some dusty book-shelves than he or she has ever received in college halls.

One of the highest-salaried newspaper women in this country, who is now traveling in the East, just before going abroad gave out an interview about her work and declared that the greatest influence in her life was the books read as a girl in the old family library.

Such books are a liberal education because they do not seek to mold the mind of the child. There is no set rule of reading. The young mind dips here and there, taking in that which it may assimilate and passing over that which it does not understand, gradually deepening and strengthening in mentality until almost unconsciously the brain and the heart reach outward and upward toward higher living.

We cannot all have such libraries as this woman had: hundreds of books written by the best minds of the centuries, bought with care by cultivated people. But we can all have our own small library, if it is no more than a few shelves, and we may read the best of literature if we will. In a five and ten cent store frequently one may pick up cheap editions of the very best sellers. There is one store that carries on its shelves ten-cent editions of Shakespeare and Kipling and many other famous authors. There are the books of James Allen that one may buy for a song and which are rich with food for the mind and the spirit.

If it is fiction we want, in any large book shop we may find cheap editions or special sales where one may get late fiction at reduced prices.

One young woman with a passion for books and little money to spend on them buys one book a month, and in this way in the last few years has built up a very delightful small library. Sometimes when she comes across special bargains she gets more than one book a month. For instance, she has complete sets of Shakespeare and Kipling, bought at the ten-cent store the same month. But most of her purchases are fiction, for she is too busy a young person to read a great deal except for relaxation.

There is another young business woman who spends a good deal each month on current magazines. Looking over her choice, one is not surprised that she is unusually alert and happy-minded. She subscribes to six magazines, which cost her for the year on an average of fifty cents a week. One of these magazines is a well-known publication which is optimistic in tone and deals much with the lives of successful people. Another is a weekly publication that keeps one abreast with what is going on in the world in current events. A third is a weekly fiction magazine which also carries good business and practical articles of various kinds.

She takes two other monthly magazines, one of which deals with the new psychology as applied to daily living and the other dealing with business from a strictly practical standpoint. The sixth is a young woman's magazine. This young business woman is as well abreast with the times as most men, and her magazines are not hoarded, but passed on to others.

GOING DOWN!

By JANE DIXON.

Clothes are cheaper. A downward trend in the price of women's apparel is noticeable this autumn. Just who is carrying the minus sign in the dollar market is a question.

Perhaps the profiteers are suffering. We sincerely hope so. Eventually this subtraction must rebound upon the workers, who in turn will put thumb screws on food distributors and landlords.

Once the tide turns, and definitely, it must sweep before it all those flippers who fall upon the flesh-pots until the ruthless hand of reality is raised to smash flippers to smithereens.

A yard of silk which six months ago a salesman would measure off on the wrong side of his index finger for $3 a yard can now be purchased for $1.49 at the same shop.

Young ladies with tilted noses and eccentric coiffures no longer parry your protest against the prohibitive price of a ready-made coat with the information that "it will be double this much next month."

It is possible nowadays for a prospective bride to go to a store and purchase her trousseau without persuading papa to place a mortgage on the old homestead.

One no longer offers the fifth part of a century case note in exchange for a pair of doubtful tan leather shoes.

The propaganda of self-denial has proven a power beyond the wildest dreams of those who conceived it. Overall parades proved as profitable as they were popular.

The public did not argue. It simply stopped buying.

Silence is the one force no man in the world—least of all a guilty man—can withstand. Silence engenders fear. Fear begets panic. Panicky persons inevitably take to their heels, and once we have a person on the run he is as good as "licked."

A travelling salesman of one of the largest silk concerns in the country is authority for the statement that dealers and manufacturers had millions of dollars' worth of materials stacked on their shelves that they either had to loosen up or lose out. Many of them did lose, and heavily.

Others managed to save a part of the presupposed profits.

What happened to silk dealers repeated itself through practically every clothes market we might mention.

Now comes a return to sanity and a reasonable percentage of profit.

For the sake of honest merchants who are endeavoring to re-establish a fair exchange women should give every clothes "goose" the "silence."

Patrons who are able to place Help to swell the turning tide.

CANNING PEAS.

Green peas are among the most difficult vegetables to can at home. Absolute cleanliness, quick work, attention to every detail are essential to success. Only young and very fresh peas should be canned. Peas are best gathered in the early morning when cool. Work rapidly from the moment they are gathered. Peas should not stand after being shelled. Get them into the previously boiled jars as rapidly as possible. Shell and sort, putting only peas of the same size and degree of ripeness together. Do not use hard, mature peas among tender ones or big peas with small ones.

Blanching (dipping into hot water) is very important. If well done it prevents cloudy liquor, makes the peas tender and also removes some of the gluey substance which coats them.

Blanch by dipping the shelled peas in a clean cheesecloth sack into boiling water one to four minutes, depending on the age of the peas. Put instantly, while hot, into cold water (one teaspoonful salt to one quart water) and remove after about 30 seconds.

Drain and pack to within one-half inch of the top of the previously boiled jar. If the jar is filled too full a few peas at the top may burst and make the liquor cloudy. Add seasoning (one third level teaspoonful salt and two-thirds level teaspoonful sugar to the quart) and fill with hot water and peddle well to remove all air bubbles. Partially seal jars.

Proceeding with steam under pressure is recommended. Process pints 45 minutes under pressure of 10 to 15 pounds. Seal immediately, cool in a draught-free place. When cold, test for leaks and store in a cool, dark, dry place.

If the intermittent boiling process is used, boil for 90 minutes on the first day and 60 minutes on the second and third days. Before each subsequent boiling the covers must be loosened, and after each boiling the covers must be securely tightened to make sealing complete. Cool, test for leaks and store.

If a single-period boiling process is used, place jars in the canner and boil for at least three hours. Seal, cool, test and store.

WORTH KNOWING.

If castors drop out of chair and table legs, remove castor, fill hole with melted paraffin, quickly replace castor and it will not drop out.

Mash a banana, add the juice of half a lemon and spread mixture on hands at night, wearing old gloves. Your hands will be soft and white in the morning.

CUTICURA HEALS BABY'S RINGWORM

On Head, Cross and Fretful. Hair Fell Out.

"When my baby was three months old her head broke out in little red pimples and then in a week it broke out in ringworms. The ringworms were very large and there were several on her head, and her scalp would bleed. She was very cross and fretful at times, and her hair was falling out."

"I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Leah Sargent, Nampa, Idaho, Feb. 24, 1919.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for all toilet purposes.

Sole 25c, Ointment 25c and 50c. Sold throughout the Dominion, Canadian Depot: Leach, Limited, 35, Peel St., Montreal.

Use Cuticura Soap without soap.

For Evening Wear Fashion Favors Capes Draped and Fur-Trimmed

Left—Lustrous wrap of chiffon velvet, made unique by its plaits and coats of kerami. Right—Circular bands of Monkey fur add individuality to this dainty wrap developed in a lovely coral shade.

Students of the sartorial art declare that there is one great difference between the viewpoints of the French and the Canadians. To the former effect is everything—they will sacrifice practicability any day to chic appearance—but our own designers consider comfort quite as essential and make every effort to secure that latter without losing a particle of charm.

Consider, for example, the fur cape. Madame very frequently prefers a garment that is a thing of beauty and a joy indeed, as far as its appearance goes; but when it comes to the protection it affords, in that it is decidedly lacking.

Yet there is really no good and sufficient reason why this should be so. If the armholes are cut as they should be the cape ought to be just as warm and comfy as the coat. And it is, when Miss Canada has her say about it.

Fashion is proving that every rule has its exceptions. For ages she has been branded as the most fickle of souls—but if straw men were counted upon as indications of which way the wind is blowing—she feels, temporarily, at least, a sense of satisfaction with herself and her past achievements, for so far there are no very startling developments in the new Autumn modes. The silhouette is much as it has been, and it begins to look as though the lady was not going to introduce many entirely unfamiliar arrivals into her realm. This does not mean, however, that she had not by devious means done all the little things that by some mystic alchemy give an air of novelty to the most familiar of conceptions. And the fashions for Fall promise to be even more lovely and universally becoming than those of the year that lies behind us.

To return to the subject of wraps, if we are thinking about these in which we shall take our daily stroll upon the street we may be interested to know that they will be as severely simple and straight as would have been the case had they been conceived and created by a man.

But if our desires lead us in the direction of those for formal wear we shall find them gracefully draped. An almost inevitable accompaniment of the evening cape is fur. It rivals the materials in which the wrap itself is developed in its variety.

Perhaps the greatest favorite and the one that possesses the virtue of being the "latest" is the Chanel cape—a creation that has seven plaits upon each shoulder, head-to-feet, and in place with a band of fur that crosses over the chest and fastens at the waist.

This type of cape, however, is really in no danger of becoming undesirable.

ably popular—that figures that represent its coat have too many nothings before the decimal point. And so it is well that the wrap that is merely "trimmed" with fur is so very attractive.

If there is one fabric more than another well fitted to complement fur it is velvet, but it must be a velvet that is not too heavy, and a bit bulky, and so many of the luxurious evening capes are fashioned of pile fabrics that attempt and successfully achieve during effect.

Brown is undeniably Autumn's own color and all the shades of the past year are carried out in these furs and the fabrics.

At the recent fashion exhibition of the "Shelton Rooms" for two evening wraps that are pictured above were among the many shown. Half coat, half cape in effect, the first is developed in chiffon velvet and trim with fur, and is as unusual and as attractive as anyone could desire.

The plaits offer a pleasing contrast to the rather heavy effect of the coat. Just why the other cape should be known as the "tea gown" model is not apparent, but what is in a name, after all, when the garment itself is so lovely to look upon. In a delicate shade of coral, with cut deep and wide, the wrap of pan ondula is trimmed with bands of monkey fur.

Eggs and How to Serve Them

There is really no good reason why Mrs. Housewife should serve eggs in the same way day after day. Of all the foods possibly eggs offer the most possibilities in the way of variety.

There are plain omelets and omelets with a sauce, such as Spanish omelet. There are omelets with finely minced ham or parsley sprinkled over them before they are turned. There are jelly omelets. There are, too, vegetable omelets, omelets over which warmed asparagus tips are spread before they are rolled.

And, too, there are baked soufflés, really another form of omelet, always tempting at this time of the year. But fresh fruits are not plentiful as of yore. All these form substantial dishes that are tempting to the spring appetite.

Omelet.
Two eggs, one-half teaspoon salt, two tablespoons water, two tablespoons coconut.

Separate the whites and yolks of the eggs, beat yolks slightly; add salt and water. Beat whites until stiff and dry; then fold into the yolk mixture. Oil a frying pan, heat, turn into it the mixture, spread evenly over the pan and cook slowly. When well puffed and delicately browned underneath spread the grated coconut over half the omelet. Place on top of grate of the oven until the omelet is firm. Run the knife or spatula under to loosen the omelet, fold and turn on a hot platter.

Egg Fritters.
Put two tablespoons of lard in a frying pan on the hot stove, break in twelve fresh eggs, dropping them in carefully, one by one. Let them cook for two minutes, then with a skimmer take each one up separately and lay it carefully on a dry cloth. Have some fritter-batter ready, cut a piece of half-cooked bacon into small squares of about an inch and add them to the batter, then dip in the eggs, one after the other, taking up with each one a piece of the bacon, and with the fingers drop them into very hot grease and cook to a good golden color for two minutes. Lift them up with the skimmer, lay them on a dry cloth to drain, sprinkle.

Egg Dumpings.
One cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Beat the eggs well and add to the dry ingredients to make a drop batter, adding a little milk if necessary. Drop by teaspoonfuls into hot soup or stew and cook 15 minutes.

Joint-Egg Sauce.
Mix two tablespoons sifted flour with one-half teaspoonful of warm butter. Place over the fire a saucepan containing a pint of sweet milk and a saltspoonful of salt, a dash of white pepper. When it reaches the boiling point add the butter and flour, stirring briskly until it thickens and becomes like cream. Have ready four cold hard-boiled eggs, sliced and chopped, add them to the sauce, let them heat thoroughly and serve in a boat. If you have plenty of cream use it and omit the butter.

Spanish Scrambled Eggs.
Two tablespoons butter, one chopped onion, one-half chopped tomato, one-quarter cup milk, one teaspoonful salt, one-quarter teaspoonful pepper, six eggs. Cook all except eggs until tender, then add eggs, stir while cooking. Serve on toast.

Egg Sauce.
Mix two tablespoons sifted flour with half a teaspoon of warm butter. Place over the fire a saucepan containing a pint of sweet milk and a saltspoon of salt and a dash of white pepper. When it reaches the boiling point add butter and flour, stirring briskly until it thickens and becomes like cream. Have ready three cold hard-boiled eggs, sliced and chopped; add them to the sauce, let them heat thoroughly and serve in a boat.

Omelet With Peas (Using Leftover Peas).

Beat up three eggs to which add one tablespoon grated cheese, pepper, salt and mix thoroughly. Butter an omelet pan, pour in the mixture, keep moving it gently with a fork, while you sprinkle in with the other hand some cooked green peas. The omelet will be cooked by the time you have sprinkled in two handfuls; slip it off on a very hot dish, fold over and serve at once.

Savory Eggs or Stuffed Eggs.
Boil eggs until they are hard, then take off their shells and leave them in halves and remove the yolks; pound them till quite smooth; mix into them a little chopped parsley, tomato, puree, and pepper to taste, with salt and pepper. Slice a small piece off the tops of the whites, so that they will stand upright; and fill them with yolks, putting a tiny sprig of parsley into the centre of each. Serve them on a bed of small drop butter, adding a little milk if salad.

If Shoes Are to Last

When boots used to cost $4 a pair and slippers could be acquired at $3 or less, throwing one's footwear about on the closet floor or allowing it to stand and cry when damp, without special attention, was not the heinous crime it is now.

Boots were worn almost their weight in gold these days and there is no reason why a pair of smart street shoes with dainty buttoned tops of suede and graceful toes of that very expensive commodity, kid, should not be guarded and conserved as carefully as the chiffon frock which is shaken out and disposed accurately on a hanger each time it is worn.

Just because footwear is worn on the feet and comes in contact with the pavement and the mud is no reason why it should be a despised member of the wardrobe and receive all the hard knocks and all the careless treatment.

As a matter of fact, no article of the wardrobe is more carefully cared for like footwear. When well made and built of good material—and one should insist on the best footwear—these shoes, when it has to last so long—boots and slippers will endure through a season and perhaps well beyond.

into the next, more than can be said for a chiffon frock or a net blouse or a modish hat that soon goes out of fashion. Boots deserve all the care they can get, and in times like the present such care pays well.

Dry damp boot soles gradually—don't awaken the resistance of the leather by a scorching process. And stuff newspapers into the boots while they dry so that the lines may be preserved; into the buttoned tops that are not in use, insert a shoe insert or a woman now has wooden trees for the vamp part of their boots and keeps the trees in their boots every minute the latter are not in use.

Replace worn laces instantly in sport shoes, and never let a button in the dress boot hang by a limp thread. Keep the leather well cleaned and well polished, and have a cleaning solution at hand to remove spots and salt traces from the light cloth or suede top of the button boot.

KEEPING LETTUCE.

Lettuce will not wilt and therefore these have to be discarded and kept in it thoroughly and keep it in at

PASSING BY

IMPRESSIONS THAT ONE LEAVES BEHIND

"Don't be hopeless about your daughter; she'll turn out all right," consoled a friend the other day to a mother who was deploring the fact that her daughter had so little knowledge of domestic matters.

Along the Trail.
"I have an aunt," went on the friend, "who is held up as a shining example to us, and yet her mother says that as a girl she knew absolutely nothing about keeping a house in order, and furthermore declined to try to learn. She never passed through a room without leaving a trail of disarranged furniture, books or music, and when company was expected the family tried to keep this girl out of the room lest she should cause them mortification as to the appearance of their home. If such a girl can develop into a good housewife, there's hope for anyone, even one—and I know of a certainty that this one did."

Let us hope for the best, but isn't it trying to put up with these sons, daughters and friends who cannot even pass through a room without turning things topsy-turvy?

What is your experience in this direction? Haven't you just now been through your room, trying to straighten things? There was cluttered music on the piano and stool; chewing gum papers here, there, and everywhere; soiled handkerchiefs crumpled notes and advertising circulars strewn about; the covers on tables are wrinkled from books being pushed together in piles; the cushions are "wilted" from reckless crowding together for book rests or to make a seat high enough for a sixth person at an impromptu card game; the cards are left lying about; faded flowers make mute protest at being left without water—in fact, the whole house shows evidence of carelessness.

Instinct and Competition.

You, mother, wonder if you are to blame for this. You cudgel your brain to determine whether or not you gave your children the proper early training in neatness. You did and you didn't. You tried to, but present day youth seems to enjoy early training. Many a mother-to-day is wondering how her daughters can possibly run homes of their own. She looks about her and sighs as she puts things to rights. Then she begins mending and darning the clothing that these daughters simply will not attend to themselves.

But again we say, "Don't be discouraged." It seems instinctively with young married women to take pride in their belongings. Envy and rivalry, if nothing else, prompts them to keep decent establishments, and the work of keeping things in order and the financial upkeep devolves upon them and their husbands. A miracle takes place. The most prodigal child may become almost niggardly; the harem-scarem tomboy of a girl become settled and efficient.

We know that these transformations actually take place.

It is sometimes amusing to hear one of these careless girls criticizing the disheveled appearance of other homes. "How can they possibly live in such chaos if they are so good home where things are in order and move like clockwork?" Well, truth is the "order" depended on this criticizing daughter there wouldn't be any. However, mother does not say so. She is grateful for small favors! She had begun to think her home unpresentable.

It is interesting to note the effect of people's passing through our rooms. What do they do or fail to do? What impression do they leave behind?

One woman goes through, and from an upper hallway we see her pick up and look searchingly at the address of an envelope not intended for visitors to meddle with.

Another drops rose petals from the cage she is wearing, and still another justice against the table, nearly upsetting the vase of flowers thereon.

A gangling boy comes in (how we love them—particularly if it's our own) and looks searchingly at the address of an envelope not intended for visitors to meddle with.

"Well, I will tell you. An epidemic is anything that spreads. Now, what is an epidemic?"
"Jam, sir!" shouted the class, in chorus.

TWO SCHOLARLY BISHOPS TO VISIT

Western Canada Church Fund Offering Will Be Presented in Winnipeg

For some months it has been known that two bishops of the Church of England would personally come to Canada in the Fall to present the Archbishops' Western Canada Fund, at the time of the anniversary of the centenary of the establishment of the Anglican Church in the Rupert's Land district, now known as Manitoba.

Announcement that the Bishops of Oxford and Worcester have been chosen to discharge this task will be of special interest to western churchmen. The two episcopates will come to Winnipeg in time for the ceremony in October, commencing Oct. 10. Already personal thanks have been tendered by the Archbishop of Rupert's Land to the English ecclesiastical authorities in a sermon preached in the stately and historic nave of Westminster Abbey.

The bishops are both prominent British clergymen, who first acquired fame as masters of English public schools. Dr. Herbert Murray, Bishop of Oxford, who last year was chosen to succeed the scholarly Bishop Gore, as diocesan of Oxford, has been Master in succession of both Repton and Winchester, famous British public schools, and from Winchester was appointed to Southwark, one of the newer dioceses in creation, though its famous cathedral is rich in literary and historic memorials.

Dr. Ernest Harold Pearce, of Worcester, well-known as an author, was a master at Ramsgate and Christ's Hospital, before going into the church. He held a living in the City of London for a long time, and then was identified for some time with Westminster Abbey, before going to Worcester. He followed Dr. Yeatman Briggs when the diocese of Coventry was formed. The then Bishop of Worcester transferred to the new diocese, just as his immediate predecessor (Dr. Gore) had done when Birmingham was erected into a diocese. Worcester is a diocese rich in historic tradition with its memorials of Latimer and Hooper, of Stillingfleet, Hough and Ford.

Will Preach To-morrow at St. John's Rt. Rev. P. T. Rowe, D.D.
(Bishop of Alaska)

HARVEST FESTIVAL

Cantata by Choid, "The Two Harvests," at Christ Church Cathedral

The harvest festival will be continued at all services in Christ Church Cathedral to-morrow.

The Dean of Columbia, Very Rev. C. S. Quantin, will preach at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m., and special music will be rendered at each service by the cathedral choir.

At the eleven o'clock service Cuthbert Harris, setting to the Te Deum will be sung, and the choir will also sing for the first time at a mid-day choral service, a new composition for the communion service by the cathedral organist, Dr. J. E. Watson.

At choral evenings at half-past seven Marks' Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis will be rendered and the first part of Dr. Toner's cantata, "The Two Harvests," will be repeated with Ernest Clarke and Capt. Wheldon as soloists.

The thanksgiving offerings at all services during the day are to be devoted to the payment of the cathedral's obligations for the missionary work of the church in the diocese and beyond, also towards the payment of taxes, the churchwardens having issued a statement declaring the total financial needs to approximately $5,000.

UNITY CENTRE TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY

The Unity Centre of this city will hold their anniversary services on Sunday next.

Mrs. Gaylor, of New York, will speak at both services. Unity's creed is summed up in one word "Love"—love to God and love to man. They believe and teach that love alone will bring harmony into the lives of men and healing to the discordant element in the life of the nations. The Centre is forming classes for the study and practice of healing. The first class containing seven lessons will be taken by Mrs. Gaylor next week. The following week and thereafter on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock a real service will be held at which the law back of demonstrating health, harmony, peace and prosperity will be discussed. Literature can be secured at the Centre along any of these lines. Unity will be glad to cooperate with any church or individual member as well as non-church attendant in their work.

Knox Church Changes Hour—Beginning to-morrow the evening service at Knox Church, Stanley Ave., will commence at seven o'clock instead of half past seven as heretofore. The newly organized Young People's Society of Knox Church, will have charge of the service to-morrow evening. A bright, attractive programme has been arranged including an address by Mr. S. P. Miller, on "Our Church—Fruitful and Obligations." Soloists by Mrs. Daniel Day and Mr. F. J. Mitchell, etc. W. A. Jameson, president of the Society, will occupy the chair. A very hearty invitation is extended to all to attend this service.

Appointed to Normal School—Professor Howard Russell, of the staff of Victoria College, has been appointed to take charge of classes in music at the Provincial Normal School in succession to Mr. Butler.

Mr. Russell is well qualified for his new duties, which will be carried on in addition to his work at the college. At present he is conductor of the Arion club.

MOTOR CAMPING SWEEPS COUNTRY AS POPULAR PASTIME

Experience Not Required To Enjoy Life In Open Air
 With Car

Inexperience should not deter one from going motor car camping. Of the increasingly great number who are yearly enjoying this healthful outdoor life even the "old-timers" were beginners once. Breathing the pure ozone day and night, eating the meals with an appetite and increasing relish, coupled with the exercise necessarily associated with camp life, will soon bring the glow of health back to pale cheeks.

Then motor car camping is, of course, relatively inexpensive when compared with hotel bills, coupled with garage storage bills. In fact, a party can make quite an extensive camping tour very economically as to some extent the commissary supplies can be procured direct from the farmers and generally near the chosen camp site from day to day.

Real Aid to Health.
 Do not hesitate on account of poor health, unless a positive invalid. The continual change, healthful rest, and, above all, the pure air is a panacea for frayed nerves and run-down systems; the tired mind and body.

Finally, do not fail to realize that motor car camping is as beneficial to the children as to grown folks, so take the kiddies along and let them enjoy themselves, to the full, in the meantime learning many things that will benefit them in later years, as if camp life seems complicated for the first night or two, one soon learns the quickest and most practical way of handling the outfit. When proficiency is attained, the labor part of camp life divides into insignificant and the enjoyment and benefit increase many fold.

Equipping the Car.
 Before starting out on a motor car camping tour, look over the tool box and see that it contains the necessary wrenches, such as open end wrenches, an adjustable (or monkey) wrench, a Stillson wrench, and a spark plug socket wrench; a pair of pliers; also chain-repair pliers; a mechanic's hammer; a large and small screw driver; files; a spool of soft-iron wire; a box each of assorted nuts, bolts, and counterparts; a box of extra tire valves; a tire pressure gauge; some extra spark plugs and rim nuts; a box of talcum powder; a few feet of high and low tension cable; a roll of tape; an extra valve and spring; a grease gun; and an extra spring clip and bolts.

Give Good Inspection.
 To carry duffel bags, tent, commissary boxes and other camp equipment securely on the running board equip the car with a folding parcel carrier or use footboard loops, through which run webbing straps for fastening the equipment snugly. Similar loops may also be screwed to the luggage floor to be used for strapping down suitcases or other baggage to keep them from shifting and annoying the passengers.

Remember that proper lubrication is absolutely essential to the best performance of the car and to its economical use. When touring turn down grease cups and fill oil cups and oil holes every day; lubricate spring leaves often; replenish oil in crank-case every day and renew at least every thousand miles; replenish grease in universal joints every five hundred miles even though they are hard to reach underneath the car; do not pour heavy oil into differential above the level of overflow hole or it will escape at the brake drum and spoil the efficiency of the brakes besides causing injury to the tires.

BRING UP MOTORS, FROM UNDER SEA

Machines Buried For Year
 By Tidal Wave, Being Salvaged

Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 2.—Salvaged automobiles from the bed of Nueces Bay, where they were carried by the tidal wave and tropical hurricane that swept over this part of the Gulf Coast recently, is being successfully accomplished by W. E. Kelly, an expert wrecker.

It is not definitely known how many automobiles were buried beneath the water and sand of the bay.

Searching For Others.
 Up to this time twenty-seven cars have been salvaged and the search for others is being made. At the time the great storm struck Corpus Christi the city was filled with visitors, many of whom had made their trip here in automobiles. The tidal wave came with such sudden fury that escape, except in a few instances, was cut off. It is believed that a number of automobiles may have been swept clear across the bay and perhaps buried beneath the sand and their location completely obliterated.

One of the most surprising things about the automobiles that have been recovered is that all but three of them were found in excellent condition, notwithstanding the fact that they lay in the bed of the bay for nearly a year. The sand covered the bodies and the engines seemed to have been protected from the damaging effects of sea water by the sand covering.

The tires upon most of these automobiles were found to be still inflated and the rubber and fabric in good condition. In the case of the three cars that had to be junked after their recovery from the bay it was explained that the damage which they received was by being buffeted in the storm and not from lying in the bay.

Found Little Difficulty.
 No difficulty has been experienced by Mr. Kelly in locating the buried automobiles. Most of them showed a little above the bed. By means of a hydraulic pump the sand was washed from around them, and they were each in turn hauled to the surface by means of a strong cable. In addition to the twenty-seven cars that have been salvaged three others have been located and will be brought to the surface in a short time.

The recovered automobiles are being stored in a place for possible claimants, and in event proof of ownership is not made they are sold or converted to the use of Kelly.

"GAS" SAVERS FRAUDS

"Economizers" Are Often Merely Motor Balls and Have No Effect
 On Fuel, Reports Show

New York, Oct. 2.—Motorists are warned against so-called "gasoline economizers" in a report just issued by the National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which declares such "economizers" have no effect upon gasoline efficiency, but are, in reality, nothing more than colored moth balls.

GAS SUBSTITUTES WHICH DEPEND ON WATER VALUELESS

No Energy in Such Mixtures
 the Chemist Now Prove

New York, Oct. 2.—The chemist is giving more attention to the fuel upon which depends the propulsion of more than 7,000,000 automobiles. Chemists believe that not enough work is being done in a systematic way to show how to economize in the use of gasoline. William A. Hamor, assistant director of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research at the University of Pittsburgh, says that a thorough investigation of carburetors and fuels and certified tests of the performance of all makes of automobiles would be of value in economizing in the use of gasoline and giving the public as much service as possible for a given expenditure.

In an article in Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering Mr. Hamor states that the Bureau of Mines and the Bureau of Standards have studied different phases of this question, but neither has been able to conduct as much research as should be done. The American public cannot afford to have the government fall short in a matter of so great economic importance and of serious personal concern to so many.

As to Substitutes.
 The subject of gasoline substitutes is one of particular interest, although definite information concerning it is decidedly limited because of the paucity of research which has been made public. The first point of importance to mention here is that motor fuel is essentially a source of energy and that the energy must come from somewhere. Interesting stories regarding the discovery of new fuels appear from time to time in newspapers, these fuels being prepared by adding a small quantity of some secret compound to water. That these fuels are one and all without particular value is established by the fact that water contains about as little available energy as any substance which could be selected.

It now seems probable that later on shale oil may become an important source of motor fuel. Oil shale probably will not assume any considerable industrial importance in the immediate future, but it is certainly as a resource a comfortable feeling of assurance that the use of motor vehicles will not have to be discontinued when crude petroleum becomes too valuable for fuel purposes.

Substitutes for gasoline should receive every encouragement if produced in the manner of an intelligent and scientific manner, for our country needs to increase its motor fuel resources, and no step in this direction should be hindered. It should be recognized, however, that petroleum is a type of fuel for which present equipment has been designed for which it is eminently satisfactory. It is believed, therefore, that when striking claims are made for the superiority of any gasoline substitute these should not be taken too seriously. The substitute fuel should be given a fair trial, but the user should be satisfied if it is as good as gasoline and should not expect it to be remarkably superior.

Benzol is Good Stuff.
 The type of gasoline substitute which is of most importance at the present time is the mixture of hydrocarbons, including benzol, toluol and xylol, obtained as a by-product in the coking of coal. During the war the benzols were used largely in the production of explosives and other munitions, but since the termination of hostilities they have been rendered available for motor fuel. In fact, several companies are marketing benzol mixtures, generally mixtures of the benzols with petroleum naphtha. These products have been used under widely varying conditions, and in most cases favorable results have been obtained.

The use of light oils from coal as motor fuel does not, however, offer an ultimate solution of the motor fuel problem, since the total production of these hydrocarbons is rather limited. The quantity of light oil produced from coal in the by-product coke ovens during 1919 has been estimated at 36,000,000 gallons, or about 2.3 per cent of the total amount of gasoline produced in 1919. The actual figure for hydrocarbons suitable for motor fuel is even less than this, for total light oil produced, and it appears, therefore, that as a motor fuel resource the benzols are of relatively small importance. To illustrate, it may be stated that since 1914 the production of gasoline has practically doubled, while the quantity of coal mined has increased only about 17 per cent. The real importance of the benzols as motor fuel occurs in districts adjacent to by-products coking operations, where a reasonable proportion of the local gasoline supply may be filled by coal by-products.

In a certified dynamometer test by the Automobile Club of America 90 per cent of the benzol was based on less fuel consumption than gasoline. At the same time the horsepower was increased, depending on the speed. At 2,000 revolutions per minute this was 19.4 per cent greater than that of gasoline. The higher ignition point of benzol also eliminates "knocking" (pre-ignition). It is known that the benzols, if properly used, are very satisfactory motor fuels and that there is no difficulty in finding a market for the entire supply.

London, Oct. 2.—It is reported by the London Automobile Association and the daily Press that natalite, the new motor fuel (so called by the region of its discovery in Natal, South Africa), has been in use in that country for some time past, is well spoken of, and has had many favorable reports upon its practicability as a gasoline substitute.

 Six Months of 1920

New York, Oct. 2.—Approximately 1,000,000 passenger automobiles and about 200,000 motor trucks were produced in the United States in the six months ended June 30 last.

While it is certain this rate of production will not be maintained during the balance of the year, output of passenger cars for the full year of 1920 should easily equal the previous high water mark of 1,140,792 cars in 1917, and motor truck output may exceed the previous high record of 316,364 in 1919.

BUILD CAR FOR $250

English Firm Has Scheme To Make Motors From Waste Materials

London, Oct. 2.—An English manufacturing company announces that it is preparing to put on the market an automobile that can be re-tailed for $250.

Scarcely any wood will be used in the construction of the car, the principal material being a new substance which is described as "a kind of concrete, light, but strong and durable," produced from waste materials, such as slag, clinkers and sawdust, and covered with a metal solution.

The process of manufacture is another innovation in England. All parts, including wheels and chassis, will be stamped out, each complete in one piece, and then fitted together.

Chevrolet

For transportation the automobile has proven its economy and its convenience; it saves energy; it gets you there and back quickly and comfortably.

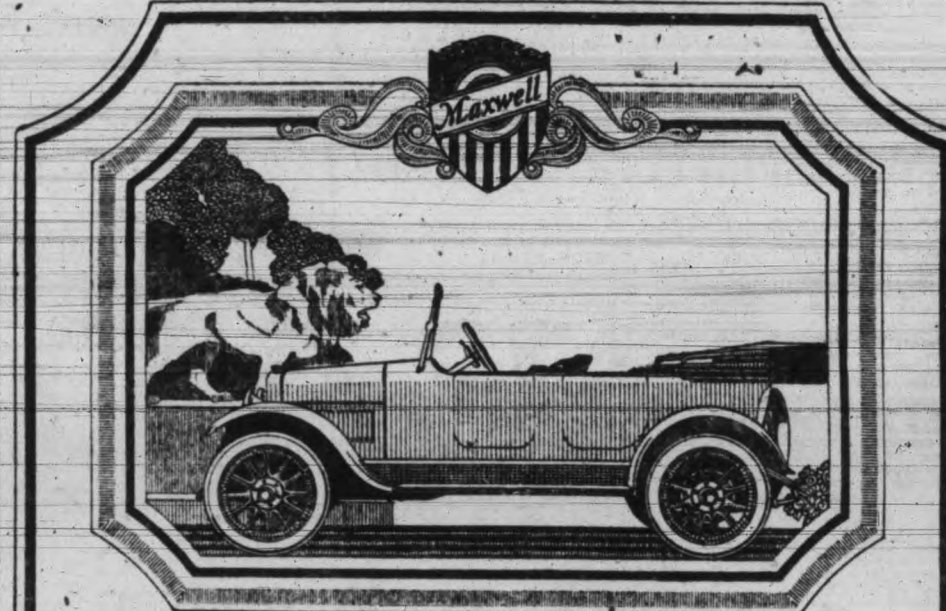

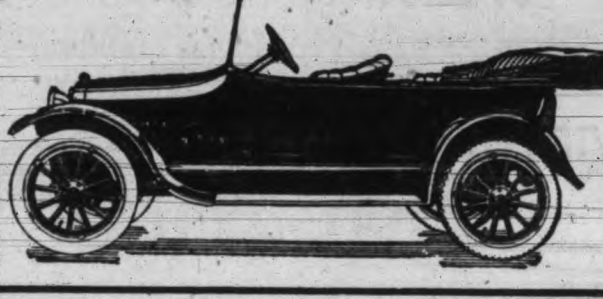

With a Chevrolet "Four Ninety" touring you can save more than time and energy—you can save money. Here is a car that costs very little to operate. It is frugal with fuel and saving on tires. And yet it will satisfactorily fulfill every requirement that could be expected of an efficient, dependable motor car.

Come in and let us explain HOW and WHY Chevrolet transportation will give you maximum service at minimum cost.

What the Experts Say

Next to the tires on a car its brakes are subjected to the greatest wear and tear. It is well to remember this and to watch them carefully. Brakes require readjustment from time to time. Both the service brake bands and the emergency brake shoes, in operating against the brake drums, must form true circles or they will not take hold evenly all the way around and will drag when released.

two-cycle type; but in the automobile the ready-made copper and asbestos gaskets are used. These may be had in sizes to fit all openings, with special designs for the cylinder blocks of most cars.

Must Seal Completely

Now, a gasket is not of much use unless it does thoroughly seal the opening, and one of the common troubles of the automobile comes from the gasket which does not seal properly. This is caused by failure to tighten up the bolts sufficiently or to go over them after the engine has been run to see that they are set up properly. This and the failure to use the proper kind of gasket are responsible for most of the trouble in this respect. It is, of course, possible for the bolts to loosen from vibration just enough to make a tiny leak—it doesn't take very much of a leak to cause trouble—and in places which do not require to be opened often it is the practice of many to use shellac on both sides of the gasket to make sure of a perfect seal. This should not be necessary, but it is a precaution.

Gaskets usually cannot be used over very many times—that is, if the parts are separated, it is usually advisable to put in a new gasket. However, practice most always tells them to be used several times before they are so pressed out of shape that they do not blow out. One of the chief places where this is likely to occur is with the gasket between the cylinder block and the cylinder head, which is subject to the high pressure of the cylinders.

Recently, while driving in the suburbs, I had an experience of this kind which was unique. The car had a considerable deposit of carbon in the cylinders. This probably raised the compression slightly, and very evidently the gasket had been used for some time and had become slightly defective at one of its narrow points—at a cylinder. We had a great deal of trouble with overheating, because of the carbon, and the engine had very little power. We were troubled with the water disappearing from the radiator. Due to the overheating, it did boil and steam considerably, but it hardly seemed possible that it would boil away as fast as it did. The radiator had to be filled several times in the twenty-five mile drive.

Blown-Out Gasket
It was not until we were on the way home that it was discovered what our chief source of trouble was. We had stopped to refill the radiator and the engine was running with the radiator cap off to pump out the air bubbles, and it was noticed there was a regular pulsating geyser from the filler opening. It took but a moment to recognize that it was in rhythm with one cylinder. Examination showed that the air chamber of the carburetor was running a stream of water, and we knew then that the diagnosis of a blown gasket was correct. Bolts were tightened up and, while it did not wholly remedy the trouble, it made it possible for us to run into the home garage. Next day it was found that the gasket had indeed blown out. When it was replaced, and the carbon scraped out of the cylinder the engine ran as well as ever.

We had an experience at the school which developed an unusual case of gasket trouble. The car was brought to us to look over, to find out why the cylinder head could not be made tight. It was said that different persons had tried various kinds of gaskets to remedy the trouble without avail. Our mechanics tried two or three and then took the cylinder head into the shop and, by testing it, found that it had so warped that it could not be bolted tight. When it was put on a machine and trued and put back in place the trouble was over.

Another place where proper gaskets well tightened up are exceedingly necessary is in the intake lines, at the carburetor, and of the intake manifold and another at the cylinder block, sometimes one for each cylinder or for pairs of cylinders. Vibration is rather heavy, and these are inclined to loosen up. They should be inspected frequently to see that the bolts are tight. As these gaskets cost only about ten cents apiece, it is wise to put a new one in every time the manifold is opened up.

HIGHER GEARS FUEL FOR MOTORS FUEL FOR MOTORS

Fourth Speed for Level Roads Would Almost Double Mileage

New York, Oct. 2.—A revolution of the motor car industry is now being advocated as a means of conserving fuel supplies. The manufacture of light cars with high gear ratio and the more frequent use of a shift is considered to be one means of attaining the end whereby a greater efficiency will be afforded from our gasoline supplies. It is even urged that cars be equipped with a fourth speed for use along level stretches of country. This would eliminate the car that can start from a given point and run over hilly roads with out changing gears. Continental engineers, it is asserted by those advocating the high gear ratio and the frequent use of a shift, are to design a car that would take the majority of the hills on its own.

In the forthcoming number of The Lamp, the official organ of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, the relation of the petroleum supplies to the automobile industry is taken up. The editor of the magazine, it is asserted, is the motorist in this country does not get the mileage from his gasoline that should be attained if supplies of petroleum are to be conserved. It is stated that a car should be designed to get from twenty-five to thirty miles on a gallon of gasoline. This, it is admitted, however, would do away with the high power, heavy car and would mean some sacrifice in comfort. It is contended, however, that this sacrifice should be made, that the automobile owner should abandon his desire to have excessive power at his command for an occasional use, as this power means loss of mileage in gasoline and is consequently wasteful.

In discussing the situation the publication says in part:
Built for Cheapness.
"When motor vehicles first came into common use we had such an apparently inexhaustible supply of crude petroleum that the price of gasoline was of little moment to either the designers or purchasers of cars. The mileage per gallon was the least important consideration entering into the question of values. Heavy engines, heavy cars, wasteful carburetors and compression were the rule, and if a man did not possess a motor that could give a good account of itself against every car that tried to pass it, the owner felt aggrieved. The humble five and its brothers were built for the proletariat, with emphasis laid almost entirely upon the low initial cost, but with little attention to economy of operation other than repairs."

"Of our eight million cars, more or less, running in the United States today there is a surplus of about a million getting the gasoline mileage that should be their portion. It is the rule, not the exception, to find cars that are over-powered and over-weight. In the beginning there was some occasion for this, not only because of the plentiful supply of gasoline but because our highways were for the most part uneven and more grades. To-day we have an insufficient supply of fuel, but a marvelous network of good roads which reaches nearly every locality where travel is considerable."

Heavy Cars Not Needed.
"The United States is the only country in the world that insists on high-powered, heavy motor cars. It is time that we stopped this. The man who gets from six to eight miles on a gallon of gasoline in order to have a reserve power for occasional use, that will enable him to push his car along the road at from fifty to seventy-five miles an hour is an offender against the public good. It is almost to use speed anywhere outside of a private race track. For all practical purposes an automobile that makes twenty-five to thirty miles per hour would serve every need."

"Not only should the car of the future use a higher gear ratio, but it should have a fourth geared-up speed added. There are a few cars now being made with this fourth speed, but they constitute the exception and not the rule. Under ordinary driving conditions a six cylinder, thirty-horse-power motor, with a car doing 20 miles an hour will make from 700 to 1,000 revolutions per minute, depending upon the gear ratio and the diameter of the wheels. Under these conditions the engine is operating at low efficiency. If the car were equipped with a fourth geared-up speed for level roads, the motor speed in this case could be brought down to 500 R. P. M. with a resultant marked gain in efficiency."

Should Demand Fourth Speed.
"The problem of the future supply of gasoline, as we see it, is primarily up to the owner of an automobile. If he will demand a lightweight, low-powered car, the manufacturer will be glad enough to design and manufacture it. The saving which would result from the general adoption of this practice is worth the price. If the final transformation could be effected within the life of the newest car of the type in common use today, we would have little cause for concern over our ability to obtain gasoline for years to come. But it should not be assumed that it is altogether a question of the use of the expensive car. The small type in most general use in the United States today is in its way just as serious an offender as the large, heavy car. It is light in weight, it is true, but wrong in design from the standpoint of the fuel economist."

DRIVE WITHOUT PERMITS
Vienna, Oct. 2.—In Austria, for the first time in six years, motorists can drive on the streets and highways without a permit and without danger of having their motors confiscated by the government or stolen by bandits.

NATURE HAS REMEDY FOR EVERY DISEASE

God Gave Herbs to the World for Relief of Suffering

Herbalists declare that for every known disease there is a herb specific. The results attained by the use of simple herbs such as are gathered for family use are surprising. But they are nothing compared to the marvelous work of herbal prescriptions prepared by the trained herbalists who search the world for herbs and compound them by formulas which are as accurate and precise as any druggist's prescription.

The greatest herbal remedy known to the world is, undoubtedly, Wonder Health Restorer. It is the result of a lifetime of investigation and experiment by one of the world's greatest herbalists. Containing nothing but herb juices it is a preparation which is absolutely harmless, not even to the smallest child. Acting directly on the blood it starts at the main seat of practically all diseases. Its properties purify the blood as can be done in no other manner. The remedy has been tried by thousands of sufferers, all of whom are glad to tell others of its wonderful work. Ask your druggist for a copy of "The Road to Health," and read for yourself what they say.

In cases of rheumatism in all forms, Asthma and kindred complaints, Stomach troubles of all kinds, Kidney and Bladder trouble, Nervous disorders, Female Complaints, Skin Troubles, etc. Wonder Health Restorer is invaluable. If you are suffering from these diseases, even if they are of acute form, investigate this remedy. It has brought relief to others. It contains a message of relief for you.

Wonder Health Restorer is on sale in Victoria at Ivel's Pharmacy, Merryfield & Duck (all-steady) Kelley's Drug Store, Clearview's Drug Store and the Fernwood Pharmacy, and at most drug stores throughout the province. If your druggist can't supply you, send to the distributors, The W. Y. McCarter-Burr Co., Ltd., 644 Hillebrand Avenue, Victoria, Phone 6950.

MONTREAL POLICE COMING WEST FOR ALLAN COLEMAN

Salvation Army Provides Key to Mysterious Murder of Montreal Policeman

Montreal, Oct. 2.—Chief Detective LePage, accompanied by Detectives Thibault and Walsh, left last night for New Westminster, to bring to Montreal Allan Coleman, alias Doctor Purand, alias Carroll, alias Smith, who is serving a two-year sentence for forgery, which he confessed he committed in Victoria two weeks ago.

Coleman is wanted here charged with the murder of Constable Thomas Chicoine, who was shot on Sunday morning, June 13, when he attempted to arrest burglars in an automobile. The constable died in hospital without being able to give any clue.

The information on which the detectives are acting was received through the Salvation Army. Soulless Desperados Early on Sunday, June 13, Constable Chicoine of the Montreal Police, who was engaged in a number of men engaged in operations which appeared suspicious to him. On sight of the constable the men made a dash to the automobile they were using and prepared to flee. Constable Chicoine, according to the reconstructed tale of the tragedy built up by the Montreal police, attempted to stop them.

Ignoring the call of the officer, the party in the car was about to make off, and seeing that the constable was not going to stop them, they decided to make a capture, one of the party produced a pistol and wounded the officer so severely that he never recovered sufficient strength to be able to make a definite statement as to his assailants, although he referred to a police constable, Joseph LeMay, as being implicated. He died some hours later in the Montreal general hospital.

Persistent Hunting
The Montreal police immediately spread a drag net and rounded up every character who was at all liable to suspicion, but without success. No less than a dozen men were gathered in and examined, but the only one who was at all directly incriminated theAiney mentioned by Chicoine on his deathbed, was not to be found. A few days later the Toronto police department located and arrested Ainey but he was able to produce an alibi so well fortified as to warrant his release on bail. The figure being set at $5,000, which was produced at once.

Still continuing their efforts to locate the killer, the fellow constable, the Montreal police finally got wind of an important conversation about his death, which took place in one of the poolrooms of the lower portion of the city, and after investigation arrested Harold Ahearn as having overheard the talking.

It is at this point that Allan Coleman comes into the story. Coleman is believed to be able to give important information when examined in the light of Ahearn's revelations, and the lower police are well convinced that he had a part in the tragedy.

The Coleman case from first to last has been a remarkable testimony of the value of the finger print system of identifying criminals, it being in great part due to the existence in Eastern centers of Coleman's ineffable digital record that he has been identified as Carroll, alias Smith.

NATIONAL TRUCKS

NATION'S Harvest

What Truck? Ask the Driver—he knows.

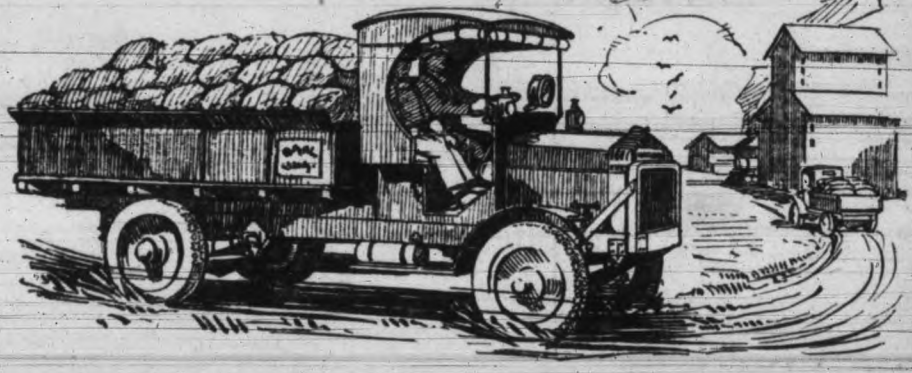

Motor Trucks or Horses? That is the question the farmer must face. Farm costs are mounting. Labor is scarce. Anything which will keep expenses down should be quickly adopted.

Take the harvesting of grain for instance. One team can haul 100 bushels 10 miles and return in about seven hours. One trip a day is all they can stand. With labor at $6.00 a day, plus feed and care of the horses, it will be found the cost per bushel is about 10 cents.

A 3 1/2 ton National Truck with 160 bushels will make three round trips a day hauling 480 bushels, at a cost for labor etc. of not more than $16.00—or 3 1/3 cents a bushel.

It is easily seen a National will do the work of six teams, which must be fed whether they work or not. An idle Motor Truck costs nothing but the interest—not more than 60 cents a day.

National Trucks are made in 1 1/2-2 1/2 and 5 ton models.

TORONTO ALARMED FOR OFFICIALS

Toronto, Oct. 2.—News of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince Rupert having gone on a rock during a fog on Wednesday morning, while bound from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, caused considerable anxiety in this city today, as the first reports received stated that the steamer had been wrecked and amongst her passengers were Dr. Hastings, medical officer of health, Toronto, and Alderman John Cowan, of this city. Telegrams were received from Dr. Hastings and Alderman Cowan stating that the passengers had been rescued.

DAMAGE UNCERTAIN PENDING SURVEY OF RUPERT WRECK

Company Withholding Announcement Until After Survey

Vancouver, Oct. 2.—Grand Trunk Pacific steamship officials here have so far received no accurate information as to the extent of the damage done to the steamer Prince Rupert, which ran ashore in Swanson Bay early Friday morning, while on her way from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, and until a thorough examination of the damaged hull is made, it will be impossible to form any estimate of the time it will take to effect repairs.

It is believed among shipping men that it will take three months to get the vessel into commission again.

GRAND TRUNK TO RESUME SERVICE

Lost No Time in Covering Absence of Prince Rupert
From Freight Trips

The G. T. P. steamer Prince George, which took the regular run of the Prince John on the last trip north, is due at Prince Rupert at 10:30 this morning. From there she will return south to Vancouver and cut out the run to Stewart on this trip. From Vancouver, the George will take up the scheduled run of the wrecked Prince Rupert and leave that city on Monday at 8 p. m., cutting out the run to Victoria this week end, but continuing the complete service next week.

After delivering her passengers from the wrecked ship at Prince Rupert it is expected that the Prince John will continue north to Stewart and return south by way of the Queen Charlotte. After arrival in Vancouver she will go in the regular scheduled run vacated by the Prince George. This arrangement gives a scheduled service completely after next week, and if confirmed the Prince John will sail from Vancouver on Tuesday next on the old time of the Prince George.

BUREAU SAYS GALES COMING TO COAST

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—All Washington and Oregon weather stations were ordered last night to fly storm warnings in view of severe gales off Sitka and Prince Rupert, the United States weather bureau here announced.

The barometer at those points was reported below 29 and the wind at Northhead at the mouth of the Columbia River, was said to have attained a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

INBOUND SHIPPING

Latest advices received at the C. P. R. ticket office here state that the Empress of Japan will reach the Quarantine Station between twelve and one o'clock Monday.
The C. P. R. Methven is due
Sunday night at the Quarantine Station.

EXPERIENCE SLIGHT DIFFICULTY IN ADMITTING STATES

Old Country Shipping Conference Ready to Welcome America

Washington, Oct. 2.—Consul-General Skinner at London reported officially today that the recent London Conference between a commissioner of the United States Shipping Board and representatives of foreign lines to the Far East concerned American participation in trade between Europe and the Orient. The London Times has said the question of American participation in regular trade between the United Kingdom and the European countries was discussed.

Consul-General Skinner said that the foreign representatives expressed approval of shipping lines with United States vessels on equal terms.

"European lines, however, practice rebate systems," the consul-general stated, "and in view of the Sherman Act the Shipping Board was unable to agree immediately to follow foreign customs. The Shipping Board commissioner hopes, however, that an agreement will be reached on this point and states that prospects of harmonious relations between America and foreign lines are excellent."

MARINE NOTES

The Canadian Robert Dollar liner
M. S. Dollar passed up for Vancouver from "quarantine" at 8 o'clock this morning after arrival there at midnight from Singapore and the Fair East. The M. S. Dollar was due to sail outward bound on her west voyage yesterday, but will be some days late.

The A. F. Lucas in tow and barge 33 passed up for Vancouver at 12:30 today.

According to latest advices received by the pilots, the Empress of Japan will arrive here at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, inbound from the Orient with a full list of passengers and some freight.

The Princess Charlotte went into drydock this morning at Esquimaux when Messrs. Yarrow, Ltd., will repair the propeller damage occasioned recently, when the Charlotte struck some wreckage in Vancouver Harbor. The Britannia Mining Company's tender, Quadra, is now in the hands of the Esquimaux shipping plant for engine room repairs. The Governor's service vessel, arriving today at Esquimaux shortly for slight overhaul. The work on the oil tanker El Lobo is nearing completion, and a scow belonging to the Producers Gravel company was let down last night after repairs.

C. F. Earle, passenger agent for the G. T. P. here, received word today that Dr. Ginnelly has been appointed assistant freight claim agent at Vancouver for the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Ginnelly was formerly chief clerk in the freight claim office of the system at Winnipeg.

The Otter, B. C. coast service, is now tied up out of commission, while the newly renovated Tees will take over her freight route and make incidental trips of freight being up the West Coast. The Adelaide takes the run of the Princess Charlotte, until the latter vessel resumes her regular route, in a day or so.

There will be no night boat to Vancouver on Sunday night, it was stated today by the traffic department of the B. C. coast service.

The Summer service of a double run to Nanaimo by the Princess Patricia is still in vogue, on week days with the exception of Sunday, while the question of continuing the service longer is under consideration.
During the Summer months the service was very popular with the Na-naimo section who have asked for its extension.

Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays
the Island Princess makes the round trip of the Gulf Island run, while on Thursdays she goes to Nanaimo and Nanaimo and returns on Fridays. The only change in the schedule now in vogue is that the Princess leaves from Deep Bay, and passengers must make connection with her via the
B. C. E. R. interurban line to Deep Bay.

POLICE INVESTIGATE GAS POISONING CASE

Seattle, Oct. 2.—Police investigation is under way today into the death of C. Weaver Scott, express-man, formerly of Vancouver, who was found dead from gas poisoning in his apartments at 107 Pontiac Avenue yesterday evening. The police are quite satisfied that Scott destroyed his life because of marital troubles, but they have been unable to discover who telephoned the fact of his death to Central Police Station, or who turned off the jets from which had poured the gas that killed him. The police hold, however, that there is no reasonable doubt of the suicide theory.

GROSS DEBT OF STATES REDUCED BY $237,315,995

Washington, Oct. 2.—The nation's gross debt was reduced by $237,315, 995 in September, according to figures made public today by the Treasury Department.

Solicitor Resigned.
In the earlier stages of the North Vancouver Convention, the Solicitor of the Union had resigned his position in protest against the convention's action in declaring in opposition to the Local Government Board a feature of the proposed new Municipal Act which the Solicitor had himself drafted for the Government.

Executive Officers Ignored.
"The convention at its election of officers elected Reeve C. B. Jones of Saanichton, and Alderman W. J. Sargent of Victoria, as members of its executive and before final adjournment the question of the appointment of a Solicitor was left in the hands of the new executive with power to act, and herein lies the straw which finally broke the council's back.

Within a few weeks after the North Vancouver convention the old Solicitor of the Union appeared before the Hon. John Hart's Commission of enquiry into municipal finances in Victoria as representing the executive of the Union and has continued to occupy the position of the Union's Solicitor up to the present time although both the Vancouver Island members of the executive, Mr. Jones and Mr. Sargent assert that they have never been invited to attend any executive meeting where the appointment of a Solicitor was to have been discussed neither have they been consulted by any of the other members of the executive on the question of the appointment of a Solicitor for the Union.

Reason of Abandonment.
"Some deplore the fact that at this critical juncture Victoria is not to be represented at the convention of the Union at Nelson next week but with a clear conception of the foregoing was there any other position for the City Council in the premises than to decide as they did that until this question of Solicitorship is satisfactorily settled the City Council of Victoria will absent itself from the conventions of the Union."

Local Government Board

While Victoria will not be represented at the convention, the City authorities will watch the proceedings with keen interest as they vitally concern the city. Of particular interest will be the discussion of the proposed Local Government Board establishment of which is strongly opposed by Victoria. The aldermen have been discussing this matter among themselves of late and some of them offer in place of the proposed Local Government Board a board composed of three or more commissioners having power to raise rates, but not to borrow money or to organize more local institutions. This board, it is proposed, would consist of the Inspector of Municipalities and for each city the local mayor, comptroller, solicitor and engineer. Such an organization, it is claimed, would prevent too great concentration of authority, which is the city's chief objection to the Government's plan.

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which sweeten the stomach and regulate the bowels thus bring relief in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. L. J. Chasson, Paquetville, N. B., writes: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets excellent for my young baby in the case of constipation and colic and it gives me great pleasure to recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from Dr.
Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AMERICAN MINTS COINED MONEY FOR CUBA AND PERU

Washington, Oct. 2.—United States mints during September coined 789, 000 pieces of silver for Cuba and 640,000 pieces of silver for Peru.
Director of the Mint Baker announced today. No gold coins were executed for the United States during the month, but coins from other metals amounted to $1,615,000 pieces, aggregating $2,780,930.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur.
Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

W. Murray Crane, of Mas- sachusetts, Died Sud- denly Today

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 2.—Former
United States Senator W. Murray
Crane, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, died suddenly at his home here early today.
The immediate cause of death was given by Mr. Crane's secretary as sleeping sickness.

An outstanding characteristic of Winthrop Murray Crane, former Governor of Massachusetts and for two years a United States Senator from that State, was the fact that he attained eminence in public life without being an orator. Although he served eight years in the Senate it was said of him that he never made what really could be called a "speech"
in that body. The successor of Senator Hoar, whose wit and eloquence
rang through the halls of Congress, Crane's chief claim to distinction was that of silent leadership and of a party mediator.

Born in Dalton, Mass., April 23,
1853, the son of Zenas A. Crane, a paper manufacturer, young Crane
was educated in the public schools and at Williston Seminary. He never attended college but, after leaving the seminary, entered the paper
mills founded by his grandfather at Dalton and in them he maintained an interest throughout his life. For many years these mills produced the paper used by the United States Government in engraving its currency, bonds and notes. Because of his interest in this industry and his desire to continue with it, Mr. Crane,
at the beginning of President Roosevelt's administration, declined an invitation to enter his Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury.

President Roosevelt held the "silent"
Massachusetts man in high esteem.
Crane had been unusually successful in averting strikes and disagreements at the Dalton mills. In 1902, when he was Governor of Massachusetts, he was instrumental in adjusting by arbitration a serious strike of teamsters and freight handlers in Boston.
Later, it is said, he suggested to President Roosevelt the method by which the strike of several hundred

MINING CONDITIONS IN B. C. REVIEWED

Case of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. Heard
By Commission

Trail, B.C., Oct. 2.—Mining conditions in British Columbia were outlined by J. J. Warren, general manager of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada here yesterday afternoon. The chief complaint was the removal of the 7 1/2 per cent. war tax on metal imports. Believing that this tax would remain in force for years, the company had investments of over $250,000 in developing Fluorspar deposits and was committed to a similar amount in erecting rod-mills, there is no protection against Great Britain or the United States. The United States competition is not very keen owing to properties having been overworked during war and little development being done. Under normal conditions they would be keen competitors for the Canadian market. The United States duty is $150 per ton and the same protection is asked for Canada.

Lead Output.
The company's output in lead, Mr.
Warren said, is 100 tons, which about equals the Canadian consumption in normal times of refined pig lead.
The Canadian tariff since 1915 has been the normal 15 per cent. plus the 7 1/2 per cent. war tax, as against United States tax of 25 per cent. Last year the whole was removed and a special duty of one cent per pound imposed.
This lead-producer in this country is seriously menaced by lead produced in Spain, which is offered here as British products. The United States has protection of 2 cents per pound and notwithstanding there is competition from Mexico, Germany and Spain via England. Canadian producers should have at least that much protection, Mr. Warren said. The existing situation presented another difficulty in competing with foreign producers.

Overtaxed.
Replying to a question put by Sir Henry Drayton, the National and thought industries were overburdened with taxes. The Province took ten per cent. of their gross income, less certain deductions, which do not include depreciation of mine property or take into consideration money borrowed by the company outside the Province. In 1919 taxes paid by his firm were $150,000, over 16 per cent.
of the net income. The company paid 10 per cent. dividends, but half a million had been taken from reserve funds.

The increase in freight rates, Mr.
Warren contended, amounted to a direct contribution to the railways, because no corresponding increase in selling prices could be made. Compactly the 35 per cent. increase made in the 42 1/2 cents per 100 pound rate from $1.50 to $2.12.50 was much greater than the corresponding increase on the very much lower freight rate in effect from New York and St. Louis to Trail. The company felt it was perhaps unreasonable to expect the whole difference to be made up by a tariff increase.
And the disparity between Canadian companies was illustrated and should be considered by the Government.

Noble Binns, president of the Trail Board of Trade, presented a brief in which he emphasized the importance to a large section of British Columbia of this company's welfare. About 200 men are directly employed by the population dependent upon the company's operation is about 20,000.
Any serious setback to this industry would be nothing short of disaster to this section of the Province.
About 100 miles, some situated as far north as the Arctic Circle, ship their ores to the Trail smelter.

"SILENT" AMERICAN SENATOR PASSES

W. Murray Crane, of Massachusetts, Died Suddenly Today

Dalton, Mass., Oct. 2.—Former
United States Senator W. Murray
Crane, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, died suddenly at his home here early today.
The immediate cause of death was given by Mr. Crane's secretary as sleeping sickness.

An outstanding characteristic of Winthrop Murray Crane, former Governor of Massachusetts and for two years a United States Senator from that State, was the fact that he attained eminence in public life without being an orator. Although he served eight years in the Senate it was said of him that he never made
what really could be called a "speech"
in that body. The successor of Senator Hoar, whose wit and eloquence
rang through the halls of Congress,
Crane's chief claim to distinction was that of silent leadership and of a party mediator.

Born in Dalton, Mass., April 23,
1853, the son of Zenas A. Crane, a paper manufacturer, young Crane
was educated in the public schools and at Williston Seminary. He never attended college but, after leaving the seminary, entered the paper
mills founded by his grandfather at Dalton and in them he maintained
an interest throughout his life. For many years these mills produced the paper used by the United States Government in engraving its currency, bonds and notes. Because of his interest in this industry and his desire to continue with it, Mr. Crane,
at the beginning of President Roosevelt's administration, declined an invitation to enter his Cabinet as Secretary of the Treasury.

To Let Contract for $300,000 Capitol Theatre Next Week

A replica of the famous Strand Theatre, Broadway, New York, will be the new $300,000 Capitol Theatre on the Southeast corner of Yates and Blanshard Streets for which the contract will be let next week and actual construction work will start the week after.

The theatre will seat 1,500 persons. It will have a frontage of 40 feet on Yates Street and 143 feet on Blanshard. The Blanshard Street side will be finished in rug brick. On Yates Street the finish will be stucco.

On the mezzanine floor will be a large illuminated fountain in the centre of a promenade. There will be smoking rooms, dressing rooms, telephone booths, a big tea room and a stage that can be converted into a vaudeville stage at any time. There will also be dressing rooms for players.

An immense pipe organ is to be installed with lofts on either side of the stage. The ceiling is to be a work of art.

The new theatre will be among the finest on the Pacific coast and bids will be submitted at an early date as the plans are now in the hands of the contractor. The preliminary work of removing the old buildings on the property is already being proceeded with.

The Capitol Theatre is to be constructed by the Paramount Victoria Theatres Ltd., a company of Victoria business men and operated under the direction of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation. The enterprise is being financed by Burdick Brothers, investment bankers, of Victoria and Vancouver.

The directorate of the new company includes two Victoria men, Gordon E. Burdick is vice-president, and Major R. H. B. Ker, director. The balance of the directorate is: A. H. Douglas, Vancouver, president and treasurer; J. R. Muir, Vancouver, managing director and secretary; N. L. Nathanson, Toronto, director; Mr. Douglas is a member of the firm of Bowser, Reid Wallbridge, Douglas & Gibson, barristers. Mr. Muir is the present managing director of the B. C. Paramount Theatres Ltd., a company operating the present Dominion theatres in Vancouver and Victoria. Mr. Nathanson is general manager of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation.

The Famous Players Canadian Corporation are directing many theatres at present throughout the country and their film productions, which include the Famous Players Lasky and Paramount Arctur films are of the highest class at present being exhibited.

Burdick Brothers, Ltd., with whom R. P. Clark & Co. are co-operating in this enterprise, commence next Monday the sale of the bond issue for the new theatre.

HERE are four riddles for boys and girls with wise heads. We told the artist to draw the pictures to represent the riddles, but he guessed the right answers—and put them in too! So we barred him from the contest and told him to keep it a secret. Luckily, he got the answers all jumbled up, so you won't be any the wiser. If you can unscramble the jumbled letters beneath each riddle picture and put them in their right order to spell the right words, you will have the right answers. It isn't an easy task. Good thinking, patience and perseverance may find you the answers. Try it.

If you think you have found the answers, write them carefully on a sheet of white paper. Put on nothing but your four answers and your name and address in the upper right-hand corner of the page. Handwriting, spelling, punctuation and general neatness will count if more than one answer is correct.

We will write and tell you immediately if you are correct, and send you a handsome illustrated list of all the prizes that you can win.

What Others Have Done YOU Can Do

Here are the names of only a few of the boys and girls to whom we have already awarded big prizes:

Earl J. Beattie, Surf Islet, B.C. Chummy Culver Racer, Value $250.00
Suzanne Fisher, Esquimaux, B.C. Typewriter
Helen Smith, Edmonton, Alta. Shetland Pony and Cart
Bertha Hughes, Haysmont, Sask. Shetland Pony Vie Benson, Hamilton, Ont. $100.00 Cash
Helen Benesh, Junkins, Alta. $50.00 Cash
Frankie Kirby, Three Hills, Alta. $25.00 Kodak
Mary Finckel, Vancouver, B.C. $15.00 Bracelet Watch
Eva Cason, North Bay, Ont. $10.00 Doll and Carriage

The contest will close on June 30, 1921, at 5.30 p.m. We will send you the names of many others too. Only boys and girls 17 years of age and under may send answers, and each boy and girl will be required to perform a small service for us. Send your answers this very evening.

REUNION OF VETERANS

All G.W.V.A. Men Are Invited to Participate

A grand smoking concert is being arranged to take place at the G. W. V. Club Rooms, Fort St., on Oct. 8, at 8.15 p.m., to bring together and cement the bonds of brotherhood between Ex-Service men who are now in, and have ever been connected with the G. W. V. A.

All members who are out of standing may discontinue their membership from this particular evening, and be present to enjoy the pleasures which are being arranged for them by the committee, composed of Commanders J. A. Barron, Publicity; A. Rumsby, General Committee; A. C. Jones, Chairman of Pensions Committee.

No efforts are being spared to make this one of the most enjoyable events that have taken place at the G. W. V. A., and the motive is to draw Ex-Service men nearer to each other and bridge the widening gap which civilian vocations and professions are forcing between them.

All Ex-Service men both soldiers and sailors who have ever worn a

(4) THE TALE OF THE SEVEN WHITE SWANS

The seven princes told their story. As long as the sun shone, they said, they were fated to take the form of swans, but as soon as it set they became princes again. They further told her that they lived far away over the sea in a very beautiful country, but that, in spite of its beauty, they longed for home. So once a year they journeyed back to the scene of their childhood. The journey was a long one, and they were obliged to fly fast in order to reach their destination before sunset, for at that hour they would immediately take on human form again, and if they were still in the air, would fall to their death. The Princess Elsie begged them to take her with them to their new home. So all night long they worked making a strong net from bark stripped from young willows. When the sun rose once more, they placed her upon it. The six larger swans seized it with their strong bills and flew away with her over the sea, while the smallest swan flew always over her to protect her from the rays of the hot sun with the shade of his wings.

THE COMPETITION AND ITS RULES

Using Water Color Paints, not oil paints nor crayons, color this picture to the best of your ability. THEN SECURE A PACKAGE OF WHITE SWAN SOAP OR WHITE SWAN WASHING POWDER which, Mother doubtless has in the kitchen, or can get—cut out the end of either package, and mail the cut out portion along with your colored picture to

That is all you have to do, but don't stop at coloring just this picture; watch for the picture in this paper next Saturday, and each succeeding Saturday, color them, too, and send in with this package and your chances of winning will be multiplied. Write your name, age, address and name of school clearly under the picture.

This competition is open to all British Columbia School Children under the age of sixteen. The coloring of each picture must be done without aid. The judging of the pictures will be conducted by Mr. John Innes, the noted British Columbia artist, and his award in every case will be final. Not more than two capital and two second prizes will be awarded to the same child during the competition.

Prize

Competition

School Children under the Age of 16, Anywhere in British Columbia, Color This Picture and Try for a Cash Prize

$15 IN CASH PRIZES EVERY WEEK

1st Prize, $5.00; 2nd Prize, $3.50; 3rd Prize, $3.00; 4th Prize, $1.50; and Two Prizes of $1.00 Each.

This is the fourth picture in a series of thirteen. There will be nine more, one each week, and Twenty-five Dollars will be distributed each week in prizes. From the date of each picture as it appears, a period of three weeks will be allowed for the entries. The judging of this picture, therefore, will take place at the beginning of the fourth week from to-day, and that week the prizes will be distributed and the winner's names announced in this newspaper. All entries for the first picture must be received by October 4, and the prizes for that picture will be awarded and announced next week. Make a start—ENTER AT ONCE.

NOTE—Read the simple rules of this competition carefully, and see that you comply with them when sending in your colored picture. Last week several boys and girls failed to send with their colored picture the end of a White Swan Soap or Washing Powder Package, and their entries of course were disqualified.

VICTORIA CITY, 1920 TAX SALE

Of Improved and Unimproved City Property will be held on

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5TH, 1920

at 10 a. m. in the Council Chambers, City Hall.

At the above time I will proceed to sell by public auction all real properties in arrears for 1916 and previous years, together with all properties in default on which taxes are being paid on the installment plan. In order to prevent real property from being sold, it will be necessary before that date to pay:

CLASS "A"

Those who are paying arrears of the ten yearly payment plan must have paid each instalment due, including that falling due on the 15th September of the present year, together with interest at 6%; and all taxes, General and Local Improvement, for the years 1918 and 1919.

CLASS "B"

Those who owe arrears of taxes, either General or Local Improvement, for the year 1918 or any previous year must pay in either of the following ways:

1. All arrears to the end of 1918 and interest at 6%.

2. Or all arrears to the 1st December, 1919. In full, in which case 10% of all General Taxes will be deducted, and the interest on same will be cut in half.

3. Or ten per cent. will be deducted from the General Taxes and secured interest thereon if One Tenth of the remainder, together with interest at six per cent. from the 1st January last is paid. Nine years will then be given to pay the balance (one tenth each year). Interest on these payments will be charged at six per cent. instead of eight per cent.

Tax Notices for 1920, showing all payments in arrears, due and accrued, have been sent out according to law.

Bringing your Tax Notice to me at once and get statement of exact amount you will require to pay under your choice of the above settlement plans.

Investors and others may secure lists of properties liable to be sold at this Tax Sale at my office any time after September 17th, 1920.

IMPORTANT

Owners not liable to have their properties sold in this 1920 Tax Sale but who owe arrears for 1919 only, or any previous year or years, may settle on either of the last two plans. These are money-saving settlements and will avoid danger of next year's Tax Sale, but must be taken advantage of before October 5th. On October 4th these options cease.

To the Investor:

The upset price includes all taxes to and of 1920. Indefinite title given free after one year from sale if not redeemed. If redeemed, 5% interest given to purchaser on amount paid.

EDWIN C. SMITH,
City Hall, Victoria, B. C., August 25th, 1920. Treasurer and Collector.

TEACHING MUSIC

AS VALUABLE AS PRACTICE OF IT

Kubelik Twins Promise to Follow in Footsteps of Their Father

(By GEORGE J. DYKE)

The teaching of music is as valuable to the art of music as is the practice of the art. A sincere teacher is one who endeavors to find out the real possibilities of his pupil, and tries to make his pupil feel confident that the teacher has the necessary ability and knowledge that will bring out and develop every bit of talent the pupil possesses. The foundation of teaching is love. Without love there cannot be brought into existence that bond of kinship which must prevail between pupil and master. Every teacher should read and study the character of each and every student, and should know how to approach his pupil individually. There should exist perfect freedom of speech in the expression of thought and opinion which students naturally possess, and at all times the teacher should impress upon his pupil that he is the one seeking knowledge and that the speaker is his teacher. If there is a fault, locate it, and let the student see the difference as quickly as possible. To be a successful teacher is not only the imparting of knowledge but that which stands for technique, but the student should be made aware of the teacher's sincerity of purpose and love in his progress, which must tend to bring out the best possible results.

Largest of World's Pipe Organs.
In the cathedral now nearing completion in Liverpool, will be installed the largest pipe organ in the world. This mammoth among musical instruments will have no fewer than 10,567 pipes and 215 stops.

Ernest Newman, one of the greatest of English music critics, remarked recently of "Tosca": "There is probably nothing in all opera more excitingly irrelevant than Tosca's 'Vissi d'Arte' in the second act, nothing more ludicrously undramatic than that she should hold up the drama at its critical point just to tell Scarpia how lameheartedly she has lived. She always reminds me of Bernard Shaw's Eliza Doolittle's 'I'm a good girl, I am.'"

Richard Strauss, the German composer, is now in Brazil, where he is conducting a series of concerts in San Paulo and Rio de Janeiro. Some time later he will conduct a number of his own compositions in Buenos Ayres and Montevideo. He is going to arrange a concert tour of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra through South America, after which he returns to Spain to fill a number of engagements, and from there will go to Vienna, which he cannot but be noticed to Strauss, who so much "strafed" British music during the world war, has shunned the United States of America.

Grainier Still Pursuing Folk-Song.
Percy Grainier, who says folk-song is a great influence in his creative work, has planned to visit Denmark with his mother, where he will spend a long vacation, and will collect Danish folk-songs. He will bring the material from the hands of this resourceful and precocious composer of Australia.

A $10,000 Piano.
Georgette La Motte is the name of a fourteen-year-old pianist hailing from Chicago, who takes a $10,000 piano on tour with her. She is accompanied by her own maid, too, and the trains like the greatest star of the day. A concert artist at fourteen!

The Coolidge Prize Winner.
Following the announcement recently made in these columns, the $1,000 prize offered by Mrs. F. S. Coolidge for the best string quartette (two violins, viola and violoncello) has been won by Francisco Mallapiero, an Italian. The quartette bears the motto, "Rispetti e Stamboletti."

It is written in a simple movement form, and takes about 25 minutes to play. This should cheer the composer mightily, as his "Setti Canzoni" was recently played at the Paris Malpiero was born in Venice 32 years ago, and is considered a commanding personality of the Italian school of composers, who devote themselves to music other than opera. His first work for orchestra was performed when he was 23 years old. His father and grandfather were both well-known musicians, the latter wrote many operas, and Malpiero considered a rival of the great Verdi.

Remedy That Costs But a Quarter.

Doctors say if people kept their bowels in proper order there would be no such disease as appendicitis. It is entirely preventable. If you have constipation, bad breath or headache you need medicine right away.

The moment you suspect your bowels are clogged you should take Dr. Hamilton's Pills, the smoothest regulator of them all. They move the bowels and cleanse the liver so smoothly you scarcely notice the effect. But you can get the action just the same. Taken at night you wake up next morning clear-headed, hungry, rested, energetic, feeling like a different man.

Why don't you spend a quarter-to-day every day on Dr. Hamilton's Pills? They work so easy, just as nature would order, never gripe or cause headache. Finest thing for folks that are out of sorts, depressed, lacking in color, and spirits.

Folks that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills are never sick, never an ache or a pain—feel good all the time simply because their system is clean, regulated and healthy. This you can easily prove yourself.

A SICKLY WIFE NO FIT MATE FOR ANY MAN

LOOK WELL TO THEIR HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as to-day.

A man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasure of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in joyfully all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferronze, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferronze is on hand and to see that the girl is quick to follow a straight and healthy line of blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferronze.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in not only the imparting of a vitalizing tonic.

It is especially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used. Ferronze is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Cataractone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The main Persian scale consists of C, D, E, F, G, A, B, C flat, C.

"Six Talented Composers".
A writer says that the modern English music numbers six talented composers. They are Arnold Bax, Gustav Holst, Ralph Vaughan Williams, Roger Quilter, Eugene Goossens and John Ireland. He says "they all possess besides their individual characteristics, a common tendency in their manner of thinking and in the aims they set up for themselves."

Among these young writers John Ireland is, perhaps, the most profound, and possesses the strongest personality.

Concert Managers Wrathful.
A new law, now in force levying a tax of five per cent. upon the gross receipts of concerts in Kansas City, has made concert managers "wring down the Swanee River" very angry. They say the law threatens to make that city a place to be shunned by well-known artists in the future.

The managers have placed the matter before the National Board of Concert Managers. This is hard lines on Kansas City, as it is the only city in the States having such an ordinance. To secure artists to visit any community is a good business proposition. Besides, people must not forget that concert is educational. A town musically dead is a town to avoid!

Mischa Elma Decorated.
The King of the Belgians "decorated" Mischa Elman, the Russian violinist, when he appeared with the great Eugene Ysaie, Belgian violinist, last month at a musical festival conducted by the latter, a ceremony in honor of the Viennese Centenary at Verviers, Belgium. It is given out that Elman will not be back in America within three years, during which time he will tour Europe, and devote much of his time to composition.

The Kubelik Twins.
Annie and Mary, the Kubelik twins, will be brought to America: The two girls, who have just turned sixteen, play the violin beautifully and have been touring Europe, and are now composing a double concerto, and will be "billed" as "The Kubelik Twins."

"The Titanic"—A Symphony Poem.
Cyrl Scott is secluding himself in Wales in order to write his new symphonic poem, called "The Titanic," which is based on the disaster of the steamer of that name. The composition is now being completed by the time he sails for America a few weeks hence, and has promised Albert Coates, the English conductor, to have him present his work on the occasion of one of his concerts to be given in New York this winter. The interesting event promises to be quite historic.

Jenny Lind Commemoration.
It is the intention to commemorate the 100th anniversary of Jenny Lind, the Swedish nightingale, some time before the end of the present year. The Swedish girl was born Oct. 6, 1820, at Stockholm, and was one of the many great singers, which included the great Christine Nilsson, who hailed from that far northern land. Like Adelina Patti, she began when in very young, and though she sang in opera at the age of twenty-two, it was not until three years after did her triumphal progress through Hamburg, Cologne and Coblenz commence. London went mad about her when she made her debut in that city, and she was hailed as the "Swedish Nightingale."

Her voice was a soprano of brilliant, thrilling, and remarkably sympathetic quality. She was an unrivalled coloratura singer, and showed exquisite taste in her cadences, which she usually invented. She left the operatic stage in 1849 and held an undisputed position of the concert platform until 1870. She toured the United States from 1850-2, reaping a golden harvest from which she gave away $100,000 to various charitable institutions of her native country. She married while she was in Boston, Otto Goldschmidt, a fine musician, and the conductor of the "Bach Choir" (London) for a time. Her final public appearance was at Dusseldorf in the Rheinisch Musical Festival in 1870. Her generosity was unbounded, her private life admirable and her nobility of soul has been the theme for unbounded eulogy.

It is of a Friday, yet both have played a part in two of her recent engagements. After a recital on September 13, the train on which she was travelling was wrecked just in time to prevent its crashing into a derailed and wrecked freight train. Just after this came another event which she was one of the soloists, and instead of leaving on the night of the concert with the other artists of the party she decided to go on Friday. Twenty miles from her point of departure she came upon the wreck of the train on which were her concert companions, who fortunately were not much worse for their experience.

"Bolshevik Russia," Etienne Antonicelli.

"Theory of the Leisure Class," Thorstein Veblen.

A book which is compelling the attention of thinking persons, and which is arousing a great deal of comment and controversy is "The Economic Consequences of the Peace," by John Maynard Keynes, which is now on the shelves of the Public Library. The author was attached to the British Treasury during the war, and was their official representative at the Conference of Peace. His book is a severe criticism on the failure of the "Treaty to satisfy justice," and "to re-establish peace and to bring about a lasting peace."

The author analyzes the economic conditions of Europe before the war, elucidating some of the chief unstable elements already present when war broke out. He then deals with the Conference of Peace, and throws remarkable light on the personalities of the Council of Four, "Europe after the Treaty" is the title of the book, which is a startling revelation of the conditions prevailing in Europe, especially in Germany. Although in his proposed book, Mr. Keynes is inconclusive, this does not detract from the value of the book as a brilliant economic exposition.

"State Socialism."
The tendency towards collectivism is probably the most important movement of the twentieth century. "State Socialism" by Walling and Laidler is a study of this policy of extending the economic functions of the State. The introduction discusses the subject from the standpoint of Democracy, Socialism and Nationalism. In developing the principle of national solidarity, the authors conclude, "each for all and all for each, may it pave the way for international solidarity."

"Authority in the Modern State."
A book which no student of politics, law or sociology can afford to leave unread and unmastered in Harold J. Laski's "Authority in the Modern State," sequel to the author's "Sovereignty." It is an analysis of the state as the one compulsory form of human association, and an inquiry into the nature of the authority of the state in the light of certain thinkers, Ronald, Lamennais and Royer-Collard. His conclusion deals with administrative Syndicalism in France, which the author has tried to depict in the clearest light. He concludes: "The task of governments is likely to prove far too vast to make possible an efficient and centralized control. There is a point in the business of government when the further burrowing of central authority does not produce an adequate return for the outlay it involves. Decentralization becomes at that point essential."

Administrative Syndicalism, he says further, is not a revolt against society but against the state. "The state must organize itself on lines which admit to the full the opportunity for realization of personal and corporate initiative."

Systems for Men, not Men for Systems.
"Systems were made for men and not men for systems, and the interests of man which is the basis of development, is above all systems, whether theological, political, or economic." This is the main premise put forward by C. H. Douglas in his "Economic Democracy." He analyzes the centralized power of capital the chief reason for the decay with which society is attacked. He shows the effects of the system whereby the individual is subordinated to some external organization by the appalling result of "pyramid control" in Germany. He analyzes the modern movement towards concentrating power, and, in the other side, points out the broad principles of economic decentralization. His suggested policy aims at placing the way to a society based on the unfettered freedom of the individual, which community of interest and inwhich community of interest and individual interest are merely different aspects of the same thing.

"Proposed Roads to Freedom"
A book to which the busy reader may turn for brief, sympathetic presentation of current social movements is Bertrand Russell's "Proposed Roads to Freedom." The author considers the doctrine of Socialism, Anarchism and Syndicalism first historically then critically. His own conclusion is that pure Anarchism should be the ultimate ideal to which society should continually approximate, although he admits that it is not now attainable. Guild Socialism he considers the most practicable system at present, and he expounds it in logical and persuasive manner. The world as it could be made under Bertrand Russell's proposal is an attractive place, "a world in which the creative spirit is alive in which life is an adventure full of joy and hope, based rather upon the impulse to construct than upon the desire to retain what we possess, or to sign what is possessed by others."

For a further analysis of Guild Socialism the reader may be directed to G. H. D. Cole's "World of Labor."

Direct Action Discussed.
The theory of direct action as expounded by the Syndicalists is well interpreted in J. Ramsay MacDonald's "Syndicalism." He shows that the foundation of the philosophy behind Syndicalism as expressed by Sorel, is the class war. Society is an exploiting and exploited class. "The nation is a mere abstraction for how can a tiger and its victim form a 'community'?" The author, while criticizing both the philosophy and the programme of Syndicalism, yet deals with the movement in a clear and unprejudiced manner.

A similar attitude is taken by Etienne Antonicelli in his "Bolshevik Russia." The philosophy, the doctrine, the leaders, the ideals of Bolshevism are considered carefully by one who admits that he is on the other side, but who is convinced of the urgent necessity of understanding the view-point of Russia's revolutionists.

Other books upon the subjects, which may be referred to are Bertrand Russell's "I. W. W. A Study in American Syndicalism," Professor H. Ward's "The Labor Movement," which considers the religious values of these modern movements, and John Spargo's "Bolshevism," which is clearly critical and negative.

The Leisure Class.
Thorstein Veblen's "Theory of the Leisure Class" comes under a different category. The author discusses the place and value of the leisure class as an economic factor in modern life, giving some attention to the history of the institution. Mr. Veblen is a social critic possessing great gifts of philosophical irony and power of expression. His book has been called the most embarrassing that an intelligent person can read. At the same time it must appeal to those who do not shrink from the truth.
